MORE TESTIMONY ON VENUE CHANGE FOR MRS. MUENCH

Stream of Witnesses Heard in Support of Plea She Can Not Get Fair Trial at Clayton.

DEFENSE LIMITED TENTATIVELY TO 75

Prosecution Expected to Put Veniemen of Current Term on Stand to Rebut Statements.

Three witnesses had been heard before Circuit Judge Noble Tipton Muench for a change of venue in the Kelley murder case.

After the sixty-third witness had testified, counsel for Mrs. Muench began introducing documentary evidence in support of their contention that she cannot get a fair trial in St. Louis County on the charge of murder because of popular prejudice against her. The hearing before Judge Tipton was continued until tomorrow.

Mrs. Muench arrived shortly after 4 o'clock and took her seat in the courtroom at the counsel table. She wore a silk print dress, black and white, a large brown hat, long white gloves and black shoes. Around her neck was a chain of small pearls.

Former Jailer First on Stand.
The first witness in this morning session and the thirty-ninth in the hearing began, was Mike Dunne, former county jailer, who now operates a restaurant in Clayton.

Dunne testified his restaurant was largely patronized by county inmates in the county, and had been the cause of a frequent topic of conversation and that "the general impression among jurors is that she is guilty, that she ought to be hanged, and so forth."

The next witness, however, testified that while he was widely acquainted in the county, and had met hundreds of persons while a candidate for Congress last year, he was unable to say what the general opinion was as to Mrs.
Muench's guilt or innocence. He was "holman East, an attorney, 127 Flora avenue, Maplewood.

East testified that he had frequent discussions of the case, and that they were caused by newspaper stories.

George K. Spading, postmaster of Chesterfield, testified he had heard many discussions of the case and that "everybody seems to think that Mrs. Muench is guilty and ought to get what the defendants got. I don't remember talking to anyone who thought she was innocent."

Dr. Edwin L. Sheahan, superintendent of St. Louis County Hospital, testified that in all of the discussions of the case he had heard of opinion was expressed that Mrs. Muench was guilty.

Attorney Anderson, who represented the hospital's administration under Dr. Sheahan led to a grand jury inquiry now under way, said Dr. Sheahan had listened to the case with County Councilman Mooney, who, Anderson said, had declined appointments at the hospital as a defendant. "They were hanging the whole bunch," Anderson said.

Further questions drew from Dr. Sheahan the statement that he had heard the Kelley case discussed for two or three weeks, and that he had not noticed any "great feeling" about Mrs. Muench. Some of the talk had related to the delay in bringing her to trial rather than her guilt or innocence, he added.

Dr. J. Mills, a tobacco dealer, said that only one person, Dr. Sheahan, had been told about the case. "They were hanging the whole bunch," Anderson said.

MILWAUKEE DAIRY STRIKE SPREADS TO THIRD PLANT

Farmers Support Operators in Walkout Called Last Week by A. F. of U. Unions.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 18.—A strike of dairy workers, begun six days ago, spread to the third large company today as farmers of the Milwaukee Co-operative Milk Producers' Association lent their support to dairy operators.

Strikers picketed the Gehl Dairy.
It and the Gridley and Blochowak companies, where the strike first was called last week, supply about 50 per cent of the city's milk.
The walkout of three American Federation of Labor unions involved about 450 persons at the Gridley and Blochowak plants. A closed shop agreement is sought.
Three hundred and 50 farmers meeting here urged counter sale of milk at 5 cents a quart to customers failing to receive milk at their homes because of the strike.
The existing price is 10 cents. The farmers' resolution also asked the state department of agriculture to pay producers the price for milk set by the department.

SECOND TOLEDO STRIKE ENDS

Electrical Workers Return to Their Jobs Pending Arbitration.

TOLEDO, O., June 18.—Union electrical workers of the Toledo Edison Co. ended their second strike of the month today and returned to their jobs as arbitrators of their demand for a 20 per cent wage increase went forward.

Edward F. McGrady, Assistant Secretary of Labor, will determine whether the workmen will receive an immediate 5 per cent increase. An arbitration board of three members will consider the demand for an additional 15 per cent increase if McGrady's decision is affirmative. Members of the office workers' union voted last night to return to work today under a similar plan.

GUARDS FIGHT OFF CONVICTS IN MINE AT KANSAS PRISON

Group of Mutineers Rushes Gun Cage on 730-Foot Level but Is Driven Back With Gas.

11 OFFICERS BEING HELD AS HOSTAGES

Overpowered by 380 Prisoners When Shift Enters Pit at Lansing — Better Cooking One of Demands

By The Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., June 18.—Members of the State Board of Administration, governing body for the Kansas State penitentiary, will go to Lansing late today to investigate the strike of convict-miners. Will T. Beck, a member, announced.

By The Associated Press.
LANSING, Kan., June 18.—Fighting broke out in the Kansas penitentiary coal mine today when a group of mutinous convict-miners attempted to capture the gun cage manned by five prison officials on the 730-foot level.

The convicts, among 380 miners who mutilated early today and seized 11 guards as hostages, were replied by gas guns. The men in the cage reported by telephone to the surface that they could hold their position indefinitely.

The guard box was manned by Guard O. A. Johnson, John Christian, Fred Murray and John Stewart.

The convicts set fire to the hay in the mule barn on the 720-foot level. Guards in the gun cage at that level in the air shaft fired at the convicts but did not know whether they had hit anyone.

Guards later reported the fire out.
About 25 mules are worked in the mine and kept below the surface.
Since the guards all had gas masks, except those held by the convicts, it was not clear why the convicts set the fire.

Mine Superintendent Robert Murray had just reported that all was well when the miners dashed out of a tunnel and made for the cage. The gas-masked officers led down a heavy gas barrage and the choking mutineers retreated.

Demands by Prisoners.
Two demands were sent up from the mine by the convicts this afternoon. They asked that a new prison physician be appointed and the Warden promised their food would be cooked better.

Warden Lacey Simpson said he had talked to Mine Superintendent Robert Murray and a spokesman for the prisoners from a telephone station at the main mine shaft.
Murray, he said, told him no one had been hurt and no property had been destroyed.

The Warden told the spokesman for the prisoners, he said, that "you boys should come up for supper and appoint a committee to meet with the Board of Administration." He promised the men he would summon the board to meet here.

After considering this a moment, the Warden said, the man replied:
"We'll wait down here." Simpson said he promised them nothing except that he would call the board to meet here.

Ammonia Gas Down.
The gun cage, guarding the air shaft and telephone, is the only communication between the mine and the surface. It was saved earlier today by Johnson, who routed five convicts as they sought to jam the air-shaft elevator cage with empty mine cars.

Despite the "work-as-usual" order of Assistant Deputy Warden A. J.
Graham, the prison yard began to take on an air of unrest as more ammunition and gas began to arrive from the walls in increasing numbers.
A few minutes before the attack on the gun cage, gas and ammunition had been lowered to the guards.

SENATE COMMITTEE BRANDS OCEAN MAIL SUBSIDY SYSTEM A MISERABLE, CORRUPT FAILURE

MITCHELL, IN NOTE TO THE PRESIDENT, REPEATS CHARGES

But Points Out Ouster Deprives Him of Access to Evidence in Commerce Department Files.

HE SUGGESTS WAY TO GET AT FACTS

Senator Copeland, Whose Subsidy Bill He Attacked, Will Call Him to Hearing Tomorrow.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
201-205 Kellogg Bldg.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—In a blaze of publicity such as he never knew during his official career, Ewing Y. Mitchell, ousted as Assistant Secretary of Commerce by President Roosevelt when he refused to resign, amplified today his charges of graft and inefficiency in the Department of Commerce and promised to give out further data in support of his allegations.
As news cameras clicked and sound picture machines recorded the words of his first press conference since he was ousted, Mitchell repeated what he said in his letter to President Roosevelt protesting against the move to oust him.
He made public a second letter to the President in answer to the current note which announced his dismissal.
In today's letter to the President, Mitchell pointed to the "ironical" situation whereby the President invited him to prosecute his charges before the Department of Justice after his discharge made it impossible to have access to confidential records and documents in the Department of Commerce.

Mitchell Suggests Procedure.
Secretary of Commerce Roger Arnesen-General to designate me as his special assistant in charge of recoveries and prosecutions arising out of matters controlled by the Department of Commerce and will direct the Secretary of Commerce to facilitate my examination of confidential records of my department, I tender myself ready and willing to clean up the graft and waste in the department," Mitchell wrote. "I am willing to undertake this job at the personal compensation of one dollar a day, plus travel expenses."

The Department of Justice has designated Assistant Attorney-General Joseph B. Keenan to investigate Mitchell's charges.

Secretary of Commerce Roper in a statement given out late yesterday takes the view that anything Mitchell may know about "graft" or "waste" in the Department of Commerce has long since been presented to the Attorney-General for action.

Mitchell showed reluctance today to discuss specific charges against bureaus in the Commerce Department, pending a possible demand for his appearance before a Congressional committee. He promised, however, that he would make public from time to time during the next two weeks numerous memoranda which he has submitted to Roper and which include, he says, the details of his charges.

Senate Committee to Call Him.
Senator Copeland (Dem.), New York, announced that Mitchell would be called before the Senate Committee of Commerce, of which Copeland is chairman, to make public his charges.

"If he has anything to give out, it had best be given out before this committee," Copeland said.
By a unanimous vote, the Senate Commerce Committee decided to investigate the charges reported by Mitchell, beginning tomorrow.

The New York Senator is sponsor of the Copeland-Bland ship subsidy bill, which, according to Mitchell, would continue the same subsidy system that he has denounced. This ship subsidy system is also denounced in the majority report of the Senate Committee investigating air and ocean mail contracts, headed by Senator Black (Dem.), Alabama, made public today.

J. Monroe Johnson Nomination.
Meeting in executive session, the Commerce Committee also voted to report out favorably the nomination of J. Monroe Johnson, Alabama, to the post of chief of the NEA principles in full effect.

"A Saturnalia of Waste"

(From the Report of Chairman Black)

"THE system has resulted in a saturnalia of waste, inefficiency, unearned exorbitant salaries, and bonuses and other forms of so-called 'compensation,' corrupting expense accounts, exploitation of the public by the sale and manipulation of stocks, the 'value' of which are largely based on the hope of profit from robbing the taxpayer, and a general transfer of energy and labor from operating business to 'operating on' the taxpayer.

"Measured by results, the subsidy system, as operated, has been a sad, miserable and corrupting failure. Many of its apologists have been shown to be those who have directly received financial profit or those who, for various reasons, have been influenced by those who did directly profit from it. Not the least of these influences has been the millions of government dollars flowing through the hands of the immediate recipients, their associates, affiliates, subsidiaries, holding companies and allies into the treasuries of newspapers, magazines and publicity agencies. Evidence before this committee has illustrated the existence and effect of these evil influences."

AAA AMENDMENTS PASSED BY HOUSE

Changes Meant to Strengthen Wallace's Farm Policies Sent to Senate.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The disputed AAA amendments, designed to strengthen Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's farm policies, were passed today by the House by a vote of 168 to 52.
No record was made of those voting.

The House defeated, 19 to 87, a proposal to remove the processing tax from the cotton textile industry.
The Minnesota-Wisconsin bloc succeeded in carrying an amendment by Representative Anderson (Rep., Minnesota), stipulating that no agreement or order should prohibit the sale of dairy products in any region in the country.

Representative Martin (Dem.), Colorado, failed in an attempt to include specifically edible beans under the gold clause decision on the ground that they are embraced under "vegetables" in the bill.

West Coast efforts to include hops among the half a dozen commodities on whose handlers marketing agreements may be ordered were defeated, 28 to 67.

HOUSE LEADERS DECIDE AGAINST "GAG RULE"

Adoption of Draconic Rule for Passing Nuisance Tax Was by Close Margin.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—House leaders have decided tentatively not to try to impose another "gag rule" this session to push through contested legislation. The procedure yesterday through which the $501-991,000 "nuisance" tax measure was passed came within five votes of being defeated.

It was a drastic rule forbidding amendments and limiting debate to 40 minutes on a side. The vote for the rule was 247 to 117, a two-thirds majority being required.

The leaders noted with some concern that a change of five "ayes" to "nays" would have left them one vote short of the 243 necessary for the passage of the bill under the rule.

"I hope," commented Speaker Byrnes, "that it will be unnecessary for us to have any gag rules between now and the time we adjourne." Representatives in charge of the administration's "must" legislative program contrasted yesterday's vote with the ease with which the social security and the omnibus banking bills were put through the House.

M. J. Insull Extradition Dropped.
TORONTO, June 18.—Application of the United States Government for extradition of Martin J. Insull, former Chicago public utility executive, was formally dismissed today by Justice A. C. Kingston.
The charges in Chicago have been dismissed. "It does seem as if these proceedings should never have been begun at all," said Justice Kingston. "This unfortunate man has been put to considerable expense and anxiety."

Four-Day Holiday for 13,000.
BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 13.— The Endicott-Johnson shoe factory will give a Fourth of July holiday to its 13,000 workers extending from the night of July 3 to the morning of July 8. Full pay at the prevailing scale will be paid for Friday and Saturday, July 5 and 6. A notice on the factory bulletin board said: "When we have it we share it with you." The management had announced its determination to keep NEA principles in full effect.

FOREIGN GOLD CLAUSE IN BONDS UPHELD

Federal Judge Says Railroad Must Pay in Dutch Guilders If Demanded.

By The Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Holders of bonds payable in the currency of foreign gold countries as well as the United States today had a precedent to support efforts to obtain payments in gold despite the revocation of the "gold clause" by Congress.

Ordering the Southern Pacific company to pay Miss Anne McAdoo, San Francisco law firm clerk, $13.87, Federal Judge Walter C.
Lindley of Illinois in a decision handed down here yesterday held Miss McAdoo was in the right in demanding that interest in Southern Pacific Terminal bonds be paid in Dutch guilders.

His decision was based on a clause in the bonds which provided interest was payable at the holder's option in gold or currency of the United States, guilders of the Netherlands, francs of Switzerland or French or English currency.

A Southern Pacific Attorney said the decision would be appealed. He said the decision might cost the Southern Pacific $500,000 a year on the $11,000,000 issue, and estimated that the question involved the value of $875,000,000 in similar bonds outstanding elsewhere.

The Southern Pacific Railway contended that the gold clause decision of the Supreme Court affected all citizens of the United States and that they could not collect in foreign currency. But Judge Lindley held that the gold clause decision had no bearing whatever on foreign payment, and that neither Congress nor the Supreme Court could legislate for a foreign country.

10 PARIS POLICEMEN HURT IN FIGHT WITH LABORERS

Demonstration Near Polish Embassy in Protest Against Expulsion of Foreign Workmen.

By The Associated Press.
PARIS, June 18.—Ten policemen were injured today when 250 angry laborers made a demonstration outside the Polish Embassy against the wholesale expulsion of foreign workers by France.

The outbreak was similar to one which occurred almost simultaneously at the Polish consulate in Lille, where one gendarme was injured.

The demonstrators used clubs and bottles. One woman hit a gendarme. Sixteen persons were arrested.

Large Bonuses and Salaries.
The International Mercantile Marine Co. comes in for severe criticism from the Black Committee.
The report, summarizing nine printed volumes of testimony, points to large bonuses and salaries paid to officials of the company, including Kermit Roosevelt, a distant cousin of President Roosevelt and one of his fishing companions on the Astor yacht, the Nourmahal. At the same time the company was receiving generous subsidies of Government money in various forms.

"From 1920 to 1933, inclusive," says the report, "the president of the International Mercantile Marine, P. A. S. Franklin, has drawn as salaries, bonuses and commissions from that company, its subsidiaries and affiliates, $1,952,410, an average exceeding $139,000 a year."

TAXPAYER ROBBED FOR PRIVATE GAIN, MAJORITY ASSERTS

Denounces Huge Salaries and Bonuses to Officers

FAVORS OWNERSHIP BY GOVERNMENT

Statement by 3 of 5 Members Suggests, As Alternative, Private Operation, With Federal Profit-Sharing.

By MARQUIS W. CHILDS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The taxpayer has been robbed and the Government corrupted by the system under which Federal subsidies have been handed out to private ship and aviation companies, a majority of the special Senate committee of five investigating air and ocean mail contracts charged in a report made public at noon today.

It is a blistering indictment of the whole subsidy system whereby in the last 18 years the Government has invested nearly five billion dollars in subsidies and "loans" and yet the United States stands almost at the bottom of the list of maritime nations in the number of vessels of 2000 tons or more built in the past 10 years.

The report of the committee, headed by Senator Black (Dem.), Alabama, comes on the heels of charges made public yesterday by Ewing Y.
Mitchell of Springfield, Mo., ousted by President Roosevelt as Assistant Secretary of Commerce. Mitchell charged that a congressional investigation would disclose graft, political favoritism and inefficiency throughout the Department of Commerce and particularly in the United States Shipping Board Bureau, which has had charge of the "subsidy" system.

Favors Government Ownership.
The Black committee declares in favor of Government ownership and operation of the merchant marine.
But foreseeing bitter opposition to this course, the committee suggests as an alternative Government ownership, with private operation, on a basis of profit-sharing with the Government.

In the charges which he submitted to the President before he was ousted, Mitchell listed in particular one deal, that for the leasing of the Leviathan, and declared that it was so flagrantly in violation of the Government's interests that it must have been done without the full knowledge of the President. Although he pointed out, a memorandum from the director of the United States Shipping Board Bureau, J. C. Peacock, declared that the transaction had been approved by President Roosevelt. Vincent Astor's International Mercantile Marine Co., in effect, received, both Mitchell and Comptroller-General McCard have charged, a subsidy for "non-operation" of the Leviathan of about $1,700,000.

Large Bonuses and Salaries.
The International Mercantile Marine Co. comes in for severe criticism from the Black Committee.

time the company was receiving
generous subsidies of Government
money in various forms.

sions from that company, its sub-
sidiaries and affiliates, $1,952,410,
an average exceeding $139,000 a

"Similarly and from the same sources, J. M. Franklin, son of P.

RICHETTI GETS DEATH IN KILLINGS AT KANSAS CITY

Gangster Companion of 'Pretty Boy' Floyd Found Guilty of Union Station Murder.

BACK TO SLEEP AFTER VERDICT

On Stand, He Denies He Was in the City on Day When Five Men Were Shot Down.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 18.— Adam Richetti, gangster, was convicted by a jury last night of the murder of five men in the Union Station killings here two years ago.
The jury fixed the penalty at death by hanging. The jury was out two hours and 11 minutes and took three ballots.

Indictments still are pending against him for the fatal shooting of Detective William Grooms, Federal Agent Raymond J. Caffrey and Police Chief Otto Reed of McAlle-ster. These will be dropped unless his conviction is reversed on appeal.

"This is a hell of a thing to wake me up for," was Richetti's only comment after the verdict was read.
He had been asleep in his cell.

Back in his bunk and closed his eyes.

Last of Supposed Killers.
Richetti is the last of the three suspected as the actual killers of the five officers and their prisoner, Frank Nash, in an attempt to destroy Nash.

Vernie C. Miller was killed by fellow gangsters at Detroit.

In an Ohio farm community Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, nota-rily Oklahoma gunman, was killed by Federal and county officers.

Richetti was arrested in Ohio last year.

Eight other persons have been tried on conspiracy charges in connection with the events that led to the murders. Fines and sentences were imposed.

Richetti on Stand.
Richetti steadfastly maintained innocence and said he was in Kansas when the murders occurred.
He was on the stand a little less than an hour.

"What is your name?" asked Richetti's attorney, "Adam Richetti."

"Where were you, Kansas City on June 17, 1933?"

"I was in the Union Station murder of June 17, 1933," Notary.

Lawyer then offered the defender to County Prosecutor W. W.
Gibbs for cross-examination.
Gibbs did not take the witness.

The defense then rested and the attorneys made their arguments.
The case was tried before Judge R. C. Cowan.

Witnesses Who Testified for Mrs. Muench at Change of Venue Hearing in Kelley Kidnaping Case

ering mail?" asked Associate Prosecuting Attorney Wolfe. "Yes."

"And you say you retired from service on Jan. 1, 1934?" "Yes."

"That is all," said Wolfe, smiling.
The warrants in the Kelley case were issued in February, 1934, and Mrs. Muench's name did not appear in the newspaper accounts of the case for several days after their issuance.

Undertaker John J. Koch Called.
John J. Koch, 1278 Ferguson avenue, University City, an undertaker now unemployed, declared all his acquaintances had expressed the opinion Mrs. Muench was guilty. On cross-examination Wolfe asked him if he had talked with John Egan county Democratic politician before entering the courtroom. He said that he had, but that the Kelley case was not mentioned. The same question was asked several other witnesses, who made similar replies.

Thomas Kelleher, real estate agent, 5734 Janet avenue, West Walnut Manor, testified the general opinion of his acquaintances was that Mrs. Muench was guilty.
On cross-examination Wolfe asked him if he was related to one "Bobo" Kelleher, and thereby provoked a series of objections from Mrs.
Muench's counsel.

Wolfe asked if he knew that "Bo-bo" Kelleher had been prosecuted by this office, meaning that of Prosecuting Attorney Anderson. and when further objection was made, explained that he was not showing malice on the part of the witness. After objections had been overruled, the witness testified that "Bo-bo" Kelleher was his nephew that he had "been in some sort of trouble" but that he did not know whether or not he had been prosecuted.

"Cooked and Primed"—Anderson.
During the discussion of objections at this point, Prosecuting Attorney Anderson remarked, "These witnesses are all primed anyhow." On motion of counsel for Mrs.
Muench, the Court told him that his remark was improper.

The next two witnesses were William A. Hartman, proprietor of an auto service station in Jennings, and Arthur Hasselbach, real estate dealer, 6737 Julian avenue, University City. Both testified they had heard many discussions of the Kelley case, and that persons in the discussions agreed in the statement that Mrs.
Muench was guilty.

The fifteenth witness was Anson Klauber, St. Louis real estate dealer and resident of University City. He testified that most of the people with whom he had discussed the case believed Mrs. Muench was guilty and no one had expressed the opinion that she was innocent.

William J. Cullen, life insurance broker, Webster Groves, testified that he was the consensus of persons with whom he had discussed the case that the defendant was guilty.

Edward Lammer, Weston druggist, testified that he had discussed the case with several persons and they believed Mrs. Muench was guilty as guilty as the defendants.

Emil P. Kronsberg, former city engineer of Clayton, testified, "I have talked to a number of people about the case and they say that if the same testimony is brought out against Mrs. Muench as against the other defendants they believe that she is guilty as the rest."

First Woman Witness.
The first woman witness was Mrs. Lillian Wilkinson, manager of The Woman's Exchange at 7814 Forsythe boulevard, Clayton, who testified that she had frequently discussed the case with customers who came to her shop and others and "almost all thought Mrs.
Muench was guilty."

"I don't recall anyone who said she was innocent," the witness said.
"You were at one time president of the women's auxiliary of the Jefferson Club, a political organization, were you not?" asked Wolfe.
"Yes," replied Mrs. Wilkinson.

Members of Jefferson Club.
Four of the next five witnesses, it developed from cross-examination, were members of the Jefferson Club.

The question as to affiliation with the club was asked for the first time when Tony Blomes, a garage proprietor, Eureka, was on the stand. He said he was a member of the Meramec Township division.
On direct examination he testified he had discussed the Kelley case with numerous persons and all had expressed the opinion that Mrs.
Muench was guilty.

Jesse Cornell, a mechanic, Fenton, gave similar testimony, but said he was not a member of the Jefferson Club. Alvin E. Block, a State sales tax agent, 608 Westgate avenue, University City, said he had discussed the case while in his work in stores and other commercial establishments and added, as to Mrs. Muench, "The general opinion is, very much guilty." He said he was a member of the Jefferson Club.

George Stevens, a highway engineer employed by the county and a member of the Jefferson Club, said the persons in the neighborhood of his home in Vinits Park, as well as others with whom he had talked, had expressed the opinion Mrs. Muench was guilty.

Similar testimony was given by Sam Gubin, salesman, 728 Inter-drive, University City, also a member of the club.

Post-Dispatch Man on Stand.
The first witness after the noon recess was A. C. Lincoln, secretary of the Pulitzer Publishing Co., publishers of the Post-Dispatch. In answer to questions of Mrs. Muench's counsel, he submitted a memorandum of Post-Dispatch circulation in St. Louis County. Rogers asked Lincoln how much the Post-Dispatch had paid to Adolph Fiedler, former Justice of the Peace, whose version of the kidnaping, published last February, preceded the indictments. Lincoln replied that that information could be found in the treasurer's office and was excused.

The next witness was Edward J.
English, 901 Audubon drive, Clayton, brother of the Recorder of Deeds in St. Louis, and an unsuccessful candidate in previous primaries for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff and Collector.
English, a member of the Jefferson Club, testified he had discussed the Kelley case with various persons and all expressed the opinion Mrs.
Muench was guilty.

Harry O'Malley, proprietor of a garage and blacksmith shop in Vi-gus, testified to the same effect, but on cross-examination said he had talked about the case to only six or eight persons in a community of about 800.

James H. O'Hara, 6539 Bartner avenue, a contractor and once an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Constable of Central Township, also testified that persons with whom he discussed the case expressed the opinion Mrs. Muench was guilty.

After O'Hara had testified on cross-examination that he was a member of the Jefferson Club, Justice Nolte asked the prosecutor what was the purpose of showing such an affiliation. Anderson said he wanted to show that testimony of members of the club was virtually identical, and added that he himself was not a member, although one witness had testified that he was.

"Much Talk" in Gardenville.
Charles Miller, road construction foreman, of Gardenville, testified there was "much talk" in his community about Mrs. Muench and the Kelley trial and that the majority of the persons with whom he had discussions agreed in the opinion that Mrs. Muench was guilty.

He added, in response to questions, that he was present at a political meeting during the primary campaign of last year, and that Anderson said, speaking of the Kelley case, "If I am nominated and elected, it will be their necks."

defense and State joined in a stipulation agreeing that the newspapers would continue to publish reports of the Kelley trial, and that the statement of John C. Lincoln, published by the Post-Dispatch following his murder on May 12, 1934, was based on a confession actually made by Johnson of complicity in the abduction.

Newspaper Stories Read.
At this point a large bundle of newspapers was brought into court.
Walter Wehrle of defense counsel, informed the Court that he wanted to introduce them in evidence and read some of them. He began by reading the account of Fiedler's statement published in the Post-Dispatch Feb. 7, 1934.

When he finished Judge Nolte protested that he himself could "take a week off" and read the rest in his chambers but defense counsel insisted that at least some of the newspaper stories should be read to the court. Judge Nolte assented.

The numerous legal staff retained to defend Mrs. Muench, wife of Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, 4736 Westminster place, was on hand again today. It includes Clay County Rogers, Paul A. Buzard and State Representative Edgar J. Keating of Kansas City; Pross T. Cross of Lathrop, Mo.; Walter Wehrle of Clayton and Robert M. Zeppenfeld of St. Louis.

Vernie R. C. Lacy, formerly chief of counsel for Mrs. Muench, was on hand for the opening of proceedings yesterday, but left during the forenoon. Recently he has been supplanted by Rogers as chief of counsel.

All but two of the witnesses presented yesterday by the defense testified that they had heard the Kelley case widely discussed and that their acquaintances were all of the opinion Mrs. Muench was guilty. It is on this testimony that the defense hopes to support the contention that prejudice against Mrs.
Muench in the community is so widespread that her trial should be held elsewhere. Only two of the witnesses testified that while they knew many persons who thought Mrs. Muench guilty, they also knew some who believed her innocent.

Richard Smiley, 8666 Barton avenue, St. John's, former County Judge, testified that people "seemed to go by what was in the papers." There was pretty much a verdict of guilty.

INVENTORY OF CONVEY ESTATE

Property of Radio Station Owner Valued at $66,273.

An inventory of the estate of Thomas Patrick Convey, radio announcer and owner of Station KWK, was filed in Probate Court at Clayton today, listing property valued at $66,273, most of it consisting of stock in the company owning the radio station. Listed in the inventory were stocks, $37,578; notes, $8,245, and goods and chattels, $450.

Convey, who died May 18, 1934, left his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Charlotte Grace Convey.

MASS MEETING CALLED ON HIGH POST OF MEAT

Committee of American Workers' Union to Report Friday on Efforts for Co-Operation

A mass meeting in protest of the high cost of meat, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Welles-ton County Headquarters of the American Workers' Union, will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning at 6303 Derby avenue, Wellston.

A report will be heard from a committee which visited butchers and restaurant proprietors to ask their co-operation in an effort to force down meat prices. The committee also visited packers. The union, in co-operation with the Consumers' League, church and parent-teacher groups and other women's organizations, is planning a city-county conference in the near future on the question of meat prices.

GIRL FOUND IN BOX CAR

Conductor Turns Her Over to Juvenile Authorities

The efforts of Cordia Darlene Harrison, 13 years old, to see the world, ended in East St. Louis yesterday, after she traveled the 40 miles from her home at Coffeen, Ill., on a freight train.

She was turned over to juvenile authorities by the conductor, who said he found her in a box car before the train left Coffeen. When she gave her name as Frances Dugan and told him she had run away from her home at Dover, O., and was on her way to California, he decided to take her to East St.
Louis, where it would be easier to arrange her return to Dover, where she said she lived with foster-parents.

She disclosed her identity today and admitted that her journey actually began at Coffeen. She will be returned to her father, William Harrison.

NEW STREAMLINED TRAIN

Service in South.

A Diesel-powered, streamlined train, recently constructed for the Gulf, Mobile & Northern Railroad for service between Jackson, Tenn., and New Orleans, will be exhibited at Union Station Friday.

The electrically operated train includes a power car, baggage and mail compartments and three passenger cars. The carrier, and another like it purchased by the same railroad, will be the first streamlined trains in use in the South.

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE URGES FIGHT ON UTILITY BILL

Calls on Local Organizations to Ask House Members to Modify Measure.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States sent a letter to local chambers yesterday calling on them to urge the House to modify the utilities holding bill.

"Your efforts have been effective, as the test vote in the Senate on vital amendments has shown. It now remains to concentrate those efforts on your House members."

"Will you not therefore again write or wire your views to your House members, urging that regulation and not absolute dissolution (the death sentence method of the Senate bill) is the proper method of dealing with holding companies and that operating companies be not subjected to the burdens and harassments of double regulation."

The double regulation phrase referred to the chamber's contention that the measure would "pyramid" Federal control on that of the states.

CONFESSES HE KILLED THREE

Suspect Says He Pushed Woman, Two Children Over Embankment.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 18.—Karl G. Richey, 50-year-old carpenter, has confessed he killed Mrs. Pearl Margaret Equina, 37, and her two small sons, Karl and Patrick, by shoving their car over an embankment near Barrett dam last March.
Under Sheriff George Breton announced yesterday.

Richey was arrested at Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday. He had been sought since last October when the skeletons of Mrs. Equina and her children were found near the wreckage of an automobile at the foot of the embankment. Mrs.
Margaret Equina, mother of Mrs.
Equina, said Richey had lived with her daughter and was the father of her sons. Richey has a wife in San Diego.

Sentenced in Paris but Absent.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, June 18.—Marguery Chadwick, who, so far as anyone here knows, is at her home in Chicago, was sentenced today to two months in jail and fined 50 francs —$3.30—for possessing a pistol and assaulting an orchestra leader. The alleged victim, Andre Ekchyar, was struck, so the police version went, by Miss Chadwick about six months ago outside a cabaret. A gardenne, in the excitement, shot an innocent bystander.

MARY TIFFANY PRATT GETS RENO DIVORCE

Daughter of St. Louisan Married Son of Former New York Congressman.

By the Associated Press.
RENO, Nev., June 18.—Mrs. Mary Christy Tiffany Pratt, socially prominent in New York City and a former St. Louisan, obtained an uncontested divorce here today from John T. Pratt Jr. of New York.
The hearing was held privately before Judge B. F. Currier. Mrs.
Pratt charged extreme cruelty.
They were married Aug. 26, 1925, and have four children. Pratt is the son of former Congressman Ruth Pratt of New York.

Mrs. Pratt, daughter of the late George S. Tiffany, a St. Louis cotton broker, has lived in New York since her marriage. Her father died last August and her mother now lives at Syosett, Long Island.
The Tiffany home in St. Louis was at 11 Hortense place.

Mrs. Pratt was a graduate of Sacred Heart convent here and attended Georgetown Convent in Washington. She was a member of the Junior League and made her debut here in 1924 after spending a year abroad studying sculpture.

Her father left his $250,000 estate to her and her three brothers, George, Philip and David Tiffany as the ultimate beneficiaries.

DRIVER GETS 30 DAYS IN JAIL, 4 FINED ON TRAFFIC CHARGES

Police Testify Victor Thiemann Appeared to Be Drunk After His Car Hit Two Others.

One man was sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse for driving when intoxicated and four persons were fined for careless driving by Police Judge Simpson today. All appealed.

Victor Thiemann, 2733 Arsenal street, received the Workhouse sentence. Three policemen testified that Thiemann drove into two parked automobiles in the 3700 block of the South Kingshighway boulevard on April 28, and when they reached him, he appeared to be intoxicated. Thiemann said he had been drinking but denied being drunk. A City Hospital physician testified that Thiemann was not intoxicated when he examined him an hour after the accident.

Bentley Jacob Jr., 4340 De Tonty street, was fined $150 for careless driving, growing out of an accident on May 10 in which he struck a pedestrian standing in the center of the street at 5100 Southwest avenue.

Thomas Jackson, Negro, 1442 Trudeau street, was fined $50 and Raymond Hebstrom, 4132 McPherson avenue, was fined $100 for careless driving. Automobiles driven by the men collided June 14 at the intersection of Michigan avenue and Haven street. After the crash, Jackson's machine knocked over a light standard.

Betha Beecher, 3500 Dunica avenue, was fined $200 for hitting Loretta Sullivan, 3500 Miami street, as she was standing in a safety zone at Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue on March 6.

NEW MEXICO GIVES UP SEARCH FOR TOURISTS

Governor Says Case of Four Illinois Motorists Is One for Department of Justice.

By the Associated Press.

SANTA FE, N. M., June 18.—Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico said today State officers had exhausted all possibilities in the search for the missing George M. Lorus party of tourists and that the case was one for the Department of Justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorus, with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer, left East St. Louis, Ill., a month ago tomorrow on a motor trip to California. Postcards they mailed from Albuquerque three days later were the last that has been heard from them.

"So far we haven't had a shred of information from relatives or friends of the missing people," Gov. Tingley said. "We might be able to work from some different angle if we had any information from them. It is difficult to believe the people are dead."

Thorough Search Made.

New Mexico city police, sheriffs and their deputies, and the State police have made a thorough search of the area where the tourists might be found, the Governor said.

It has been established definitely that they were in Albuquerque May 22, on the point of departing for El Paso, 300 miles to the south. A restaurant man at Socorro, 80 miles along the road, identified pictures of the missing persons as those of a party of tourists who had lunch at his place the next day.

Then there was a report that the automobile, driven by a young man who was alone, had stopped at a filling station 44 miles south of Socorro. A woman told of seeing an automobile with Illinois license plates overturned on the road about the same time, with a shirtless man trying to right it.

Sold Radiator Cap.
But W. J. Willis, automobile parts dealer at Las Cruces, 250 miles south of Albuquerque, and only 50 miles away from El Paso, said that on the night of May 23 he had sold a radiator cap to a man he identified from a photograph as Lorus. The radiator cap, Willis said, was for a 1929 Nash. That was the model Lorus owned.

The car was next seen in El Paso, with, but one occupant, a man said to be about 22 years old. It was driven across Texas to Dallas, where it was abandoned May 28. Along the route at least 16 of the $10 travelers' checks issued to Lorus were cashed. Lorus had $400 in such checks with him when he left East St. Louis.

15-MILE RAILROAD BOUGHT BY ST. LOUISAN FOR $25,000

Two Sales Necessary Since Line Lies in Douglas and Wright Counties.

AVA, Mo., June 18.—Douglas County's only railroad, the Ozark Southern, was sold under mortgage yesterday to Claude E. Vrooman of St. Louis. The railroad, 15 miles long, connecting with the Frisco at Mansfield, Mo., lies in both Douglas and Wright counties, making two sales necessary.

Vrooman said that he would continue to operate the road for some time, but expected to eventually salvage it. He said that with the advent of improved roads, the railroad could not be operated at a profit, but estimated it was worth more than the $25,000 he paid for it.

At the Douglas County sale, held here, Vrooman bid $15,000 for the property. An hour later at Mansfield he bid $10,000 for the Wright County property. The Ozark Southern, built in 1909, was bought three years ago by a group of Ava business men. The sale yesterday was under a mortgage held by Vrooman, which was given at the time of the purchase.

Stone Rooms, Skeletons and Chapel Discovered in France.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNE, Isere Department, France, June 18.—Sewer diggers have discovered a medieval underground town 100 feet below the present city of Vienne. Skeletons and powdered wood have been found. Archeologists estimate the town's age as 800 to 900 years.

Three long galleries and a network of passages connect big stone rooms some of which are 33 feet long, 20 feet wide and 13 feet high. The town has a chapel with frescoed walls.

Indianapolis Suit Alleges Processing Tax Is Unconstitutional.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 18.—Kings & Co., meat packers, in a Federal Court suit filed yesterday maintain that the processing tax of the Agricultural Adjustment Act is a "gratuity levied on one class and paid to another" and asked that the act be declared unconstitutional.

The company's suit seeks to restrain the Government from collecting $134,066 in processing taxes now due. The company operates slaughterhouses in Richmond, Va., and Indianapolis.

YALE HEAD SAYS "RAUCOUS FORCES" ASSAIL GOVERNMENT

Declare They Magnify Its Alleged Futility in Times of Crisis.

By the Associated Press.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 18.—President James Rowland Angell today told the 617 graduates of three divisions of Yale University that they "are faring forth into a world where shrill and raucous voices are still heard assailing the foundations of our government."

He asserted: "These critics have magnified its (government) alleged futility in time of crisis and its inability to adjust itself promptly to the complexities of our contemporary world, where agriculture and industry clash; where labor and capital cross swords; where economic security and rugged individualism find reconciliation difficult; where the spirit of the national good will and co-operation struggles vainly with a truculent nationalism."

"No intelligent person can pretend that democracy as we know it in the United States has not been guilty of gross blunders and innumerable shortcomings. But with all of its defects, contrast our republican form of government with that of any of its autocratic neighbors and who can hesitate for an instant in making his choice, or who can doubt that, with patience and intelligence at its good will, we shall find the way out of our troubles?"

Text of E. Y. Mitchell's Letter To President After His Ouster

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The text of a letter written to President Roosevelt last Saturday by Ewing Y. Mitchell, deposed Assistant Secretary of Commerce, follows:

Your letter dated June 13th, handed to me by Secretary Roper on the 15th, refers to your letter of May 29th requesting my resignation and states: "You have declined to resign. Therefore, I hereby remove you from your office as Assistant Secretary of Commerce, effective immediately."

I shall not question the power of the President to remove an executive official, even though he was appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. However, I must confess to some surprise that the President was persuaded to exercise that power in this instance, without first according me an interview as requested in my letters of May 29th and 30th.

Believing that the President had been misled as to the true conditions in the Department of Commerce and as to the reasons motivating those who were maneuvering to get me out of the department, at any price, I solicited an opportunity to personally acquaint you with the facts, so that grave administrative abuses might be remedied and scandal averted.

The demands upon the President's time and the many pressing problems he is called upon to solve are well understood, but it did seem to me and to the friends with whom I advised, that the President would accord me a hearing in an endeavor to ascertain the truth, before resorting to his summary power of removal.

Your letter of June 13th states that you requested my resignation "to open the way for the appointment of a man of wide administrative experience" because you desired "to reorganize and make more effective the transportation service of the Federal Government." In passing, it should be recorded that the attempts I made to reorganize and implant some sorely needed reforms in the shipping, air commerce, and other bureaus under my supervision, occasioned the active hostility of the privileged and corrupt political interests that now dominate the Department of Commerce. Since it may seem strange that a member of your official family should refuse to step aside so that reforms might be carried out, perhaps I should explain why I felt that it would be contrary to the public interest and contrary to my sworn duty as a public officer to voluntarily surrender my post. In making such explanation I intend no lack of respect to you, Mr. President, nor to your high office, even though I may state the facts with some bluntness.

Your letter implies that I am lacking in the "wide administrative experience" considered essential for the reorganization you have in mind; but I must assume you know that I was urged by Mr. Jesse Jones, who stated that he was acting at your direction, to give up my post as Assistant Secretary of Commerce and accept an executive position at the same salary in the RFC mortgage company being organized by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It is represented to me that my services in an administrative capacity were being solicited for this new organization where a great field of constructive work must be undertaken. This flattering offer was thrice repeated and as often declined. I mention this for two reasons. First, because the position offered required organizing and administrative qualifications. Second, because it was represented that unless I resigned as assistant secretary and accepted the new position I would be removed from the Commerce post.

Under such circumstances, it must be conceded, I believe, that in refusing to yield to the pressure applied to compel me to resign, I was not actuated by the desire to retain a Government job. I made it clear to Mr. Jesse Jones, to Postmaster-General Farley, to Secretary Roper and to others who urged me to accept this other position, that I felt it was my duty as a public servant to stick to my post in the Department of Commerce until the administrative shortcomings of that department had been corrected.

In your letter of the 13th you reiterate the statement made in your letter of May 29th that it is your desire to reorganize and "make more effective the transportation service of the Federal Government," and to that end requested my resignation to open the way for the appointment of a man of "wide administrative experience." I note that Secretary Roper has selected and you have requested the Senate to confirm Mr. J. Monroe Johnson from Secretary Roper's own State of South Carolina. According to the history of Mr. Johnson in Who's Who, it appears that he is a member of the Executive Committee of the American Legion and a civil engineer whose business experience has been confined to building bridges and draining swamps in South Carolina.

It is to be regretted, Mr. President, if a capable civil engineer was all that was required to fill the vacancy occasioned by my removal that a man of this type was not selected from the large number of capable men who have made in Missouri following in Missouri. Owing to the tremendous pressure of your official duties you may not know, but it nevertheless is a fact, that nearly all of the worthwhile appointments you have made in Missouri have gone to the notorious Pendergast-Reed machine, whose vigorous opposition to your nomination before the Chicago convention and whose brutal tactics during the convention were carried to such extremes that the women among the Roosevelt delegates often were in tears.

Perhaps you did not know, Mr. President, that you already have a "transportation expert" in the Department of Commerce. Some time ago Secretary Roper hired an expert at a salary of $8000 per year. It is true that so far he has functioned only as a publicity expert, even though he is being paid to advise on transportation problems.

It is further stated that the "transportation expert" has an assistant at a salary of $5000 a year who also devoted himself to publicity.

Summary of Charges.

As stated to you in my letter of May 30, I respectfully declined to resign, even at your request, because I knew but doubted that the President knew that the reason assigned by Secretary Roper for deeming my resignation by the department was "it became evident that Mr. Mitchell's aptitudes were not along the necessary executive lines and the Secretary of Commerce then requested his resignation." The trouble was that my "aptitudes" led me to look into the merits and the lawfulness of the multitude of business transactions that came to me for approval and when I found that ships costing millions of dollars and in perfect condition were being delivered for scrapping on an illegal contract, that millions of dollars in mail pay were being squandered without any regard for past due obligations of the contractor to the Government, and other Treasury plundering transactions were going on without check or hindrance, I refused to approve such racketeering practices. So would you, Mr. President, and so would any other honest public officer who was confronted with such scandalous disregard of the public interest. According to the racketeers who had placed their henchmen in official key positions were resentful and found no difficulty in persuading Secretary Roper that my "aptitudes" were unsuited to the position I occupied.

Aptitudes along executive lines, as that term is construed in the Commerce Department today, means a willingness to sign on the dotted line without making any embarrassing questions. It means approving without quibble or debate the kind of transactions that were exposed in the Black contract, and in the report made to you by Postmaster-General Farley.

"Sinister" Forces Still at Work.

It must not be supposed, Mr. President, that because dishonest and corrupt practices originating under the previous administrations have been exposed and because you have pointed the finger of denunciation at such practices, that your administration will be immune from such scandals. The same sinister privileged interests that you so vigorously denounced in your message to Congress on March 4th, last, are still doing business in Secretary Roper's department. Indeed, some of the very men named in the Farley report are members of Secretary Roper's advisory committee on shipping. Very soon after I took office I incurred the hostility of the advisers because I refused to be bludgeoned into following their suggestions as to how my duties should be performed.

Mr. President, you will recall that the patriot Patrick Henry declaimed in the Virginia House of Burgesses:

"Caesar had his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell, and George the Third may profit by their example."

So, too, may I suggest, that President Grant had the "start-route" mail scandal; President Harding had the Teapot Dome oil scandal and you may be confronted with a shipping scandal. It is for you to decide whether transactions such as the offensive Leviathan affair are to be hushed by saying "the President has approved," or whether you will justify the high hopes and expectations of the millions of American citizens who heard you declare that the money changers shall be driven from the temple. The New Deal is on trial at the bar of public opinion on more than one front.

Roper's "Unjarred Complacency."

The complacency of Secretary Roper was not jarred in the least by the concrete evidences of fraud and illegality in a large number of transactions which I brought to his personal attention. Apparently he has no intention or desire to initiate any action to rescind these illegal contracts or to recover public moneys illegally disbursed thereunder. Indeed, Secretary Roper recently has executed the fronting enable the permanent lay-up of the Leviathan which results in Vincent Astor, Kermit Roosevelt, the Franklins and other stockholders of the International Merchant Marine Corporation being relieved of paying $1,720,000 justly due the Government without any consideration whatsoever for such release.

In Teeth of McClure Opinion.

This contract was executed in the teeth of an opinion rendered by the acting Comptroller-General which pointed out the illegality of the transaction.

In the controversy over the Mc-

Callan amendment to the emergency relief bill, it was your position that sufficient pay to the head of a family for living was $50 per month, or $600 per year. If $600 per year is sufficient to provide a living for a family of five as you pointed out, the $1,720,000 which the contract for the laying up of the Leviathan presents to Mr. Vincent Astor and his friends would provide a living for a whole year to 2366 families, or 14,330 persons.

I note that you have not sent my letters to the Department of Justice and have requested that department to continue energetically its consideration of my communications when in the information I previously furnished that department after reporting the facts to the Secretary of Commerce. You state: "You will, of course, be furnished every opportunity to amplify and substantiate your comments." It seems rather ironical, Mr. President, for you to suggest that I assist in uncovering frauds against the United States, which might result in civil actions to recover money and in prosecutions for violations of the criminal code, when in the same communication you remove me from a position where I would have access to records and personnel on which proof depends.

Suggestion on Procedure.

However, I know you must be sincere in desiring enforcement of the law, no matter who the guilty ones may be. Therefore, if you will instruct the Attorney-General to designate me as his special assistant in charge of recoveries and prosecutions arising out of matters controlled by the Department of Commerce to facilitate my examination of the confidential as well as public records of his department, I tender myself ready and willing to clean up the graft and waste in the department.

I am willing to undertake this job at a personal compensation of one dollar per year, provided the Government will detail the necessary office facilities and personnel to assist in the cleanup.

There is one case, however, in which all the facts are well known and which needs no further investigation. I refer to the contract signed by Secretary Roper on March 19, 1935, providing for the permanent lay-up of the S. S. Leviathan. The acting Comptroller-General in his letter of March 12, 1935, to Secretary Roper, set forth in full all the facts in the case. May I respectfully suggest, Mr. President, that the public welfare demands that you direct that this contract be rescinded and the Attorney-General required to lay all the facts concerning its execution before a grand jury to the end that all those who have been guilty of a violation of the criminal code in connection therewith, if any thereof, shall be prosecuted without regard for their high official positions or their eminent places in the business world.

HOUSE GROUP AGREES ON SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Measure to Be Reported Out Next Week—Provides for Outright Payments.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The House Merchant Marine Committee approved yesterday a measure under which outright ship subsidies would be granted instead of ocean mail contracts, and the Government would pay the differences in costs between American and foreign ship construction and operation. A heavy increase in the liability of ship owners for loss of bill at sea was written into the bill.

Committee members said the bill would be recommended to the House next week.

A new five-man board, the United States Maritime Authority, would be set up under the bill to foster a merchant marine which would be able to carry all domestic water-borne commerce and at least half the import and export trade.

Capable of serving as a naval and military auxiliary in war or national emergency.

Consisted of vessels, built in the United States and manned with citizen personnel.

Owned and operated under the American flag and so regulated as to assure shippers adequate service and parity of rates to foreign markets.

On application of a shipping company the maritime authority would contract with a private shipyard for construction of a vessel, then sell it to the applicant for what the ship would cost if it were built abroad. The applicant would be allowed 20 years to pay.

DAUGHTER TESTIFIES FATHER BEAT HER MOTHER TO DEATH

Tells Macon (Mo.) Jury That Father Hit Woman With Stove Poker.

By the Associated Press.
MACON, Mo., June 18.—Clara Ricci, 21-year-old daughter of Gabriel Ricci, yesterday told a Criminal Court jury here that her father beat her mother to death with a stove poker last March 9. Miss Ricci was the chief State witness against Ricci, who denies her charges.

Cross-examination of Miss Ricci indicated that the defense will attempt to show that Mrs. Ricci suffered from bad teeth and other ailments which could have caused her death.

"YES, I USE COSMETICS," says Carole Lombard, "but thanks to Lux Toilet Soap, I'm not afraid of getting Cosmetic Skin!"

This lovely screen star knows it is when cosmetics are allowed to choke the pores that trouble begins—tiny blemishes appear—enlarging pores—blackheads, perhaps.

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

To guard against unattractive Cosmetic Skin always be sure to remove cosmetics thoroughly the Hollywood way. Lux Toilet Soap has an ACTIVE lather that sinks deep into the pores, safely removes every vestige of dust, dirt, stale cosmetics.

You can use all the rouge and powder you wish, of course! But before you put on fresh make-up during the day—ALWAYS before you go to bed at night—use the gentle white soap 9 out of 10 lovely screen stars have made their beauty care for years.

Text of President's Address To State Works Administrators

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The text of President Roosevelt's address to state works progress administrators follows:

We are all engaged in a common task and I think we can be quite informal in talking about it. There are only one or two points I want to mention.
The first, of course, relates to the broad objective, what might be called the main objective of this program we are engaged in.
And it does not require very difficult arithmetic for the average layman to understand it.
We have to divide three and a half million men into four billion dollars. Almost anyone can understand that. In other words, Congress has given us four billion dollars. The objective is to put three and a half million men to work during the coming fiscal year.
That means a great many heartaches for people who have very expensive projects. They might just as well recognize that.
You are going to have a great many difficulties and heart-burnings because you will have to turn down a lot of splendid projects all over the United States. I assure you, however, that you are not going to have any more difficult time than I am having already from people all over the country who have projects that are very worthy projects that just do not fall within the arithmetic of the situation.

Therefore, I feel it is incumbent on us not only to explain this problem of arithmetic to the people who have these projects, but also to explain it to the people as a whole, in every state of the country, so that they will understand why it is necessary, in attaining this objective of ours, to say "no" to requests that do not fall within the arithmetic.

In other words, outside of a handful of what might be called strictly Federal projects such as the Bonneville and the Fort Peck dams, the deepening of the Mississippi and the channel in the Upper Missouri, and a few others of that kind, which total only a very small portion of the four billion dollars, practically all the rest of the money must be spent, on the average, at the rate of somewhere between $100 and $200 per man, which must of necessity include everything—not only the amount we pay the men themselves, but also the amount that the materials cost as well as the overhead costs.

Translated in another way, that means that given "X" state we find out the number of people on the relief rolls and we call that "Y." Then we make a quota allocation. That quota we call "Z" and there are your three factors: "X," the name of the state, "Y," the number of people on the relief rolls, and
"Z," the amount of money we can spend on them.

That is your job and ours.
I should say probably it was even more your job than ours because each one of you knows the possibilities within your own state better than we can know it here in Washington.
We must look to you and we are going to look to you for advice. The chances are we will take it. In regard to the spending of this allotted money, the responsibility is going to be very largely on you to see that the money goes around and accomplishes the objective given us as a mandate by the Congress of the United States.
That is to put all the people on the relief rolls to work within the coming year.

We want to get rid of the dole. We believe that the dole is destructive of all that is best in our citizenship and we want to make people feel that they are no longer in the bread line —no longer getting things for nothing. We want them to feel that they are getting work, even though the amount they get in pay for their work is somewhat below, in most cases, what they would be able to earn in private jobs.

Private Employment Preferred.
That brings up the second point. We want, in-so-far as possible, to have every relief administrator make every effort to get the unemployed reinto private industry, even if it means slowing down or stopping some of the jobs we have undertaken. We should not hesitate for one single moment to stop a certain number of projects if people are taken back into private industry.

There will be a certain number of our works that can be closed down temporarily or stopped just where they are without very much loss. This whole thing very largely will depend upon the close co-operation with local authorities everywhere—Governors, Mayors, county officials, and various State agencies. It is a Federal administrative program and, of course, the Federal Government is ultimately responsible. You are responsible because you represent the Federal Government and yet at the same time we cannot conduct it successfully unless we get co-operation and joint effort on the part of all the localities.

The second point I make is that we have to be extremely careful not to make any kind of discrimination. We cannot discriminate in any of the work we are conducting either because of race or religion or politics. Politics, so far as we are concerned, is out. If anybody asks you to discriminate because of politics you can tell them that the President of the United States gave direct orders that there is not to be any such discrimination.

Equal Treatment for All.
That applies both ways. It means, we cannot hurt our enemies nor help our friends. We have to and will treat them all exactly alike. In carrying out this work, consider it purely and solely from a human point of view. Do everything you can to prevent the use of political considerations, one way or the other.

Finally, in regard to the projects themselves, we want them to be as useful as we can make them. We have all seen the work that was done in a very great hurry in the late fall and winter of 1933-34. Of course, a lot of that was thrown together. It was made work. It was invented work. A great many municipalities and counties had only a week or two weeks to decide what they had to do.
They did the best they could.
The extraordinary thing is that in view of the shortness of time so much of that work was actually useful.

Today we have all that experience behind us. Of course, there will be a great many other projects, but we must keep to that mathematical figure of three and a half million people and four billion dollars. We must always keep that mathematical figure in mind.

This morning I saw a delegation from a certain State—Senators and Congressmen—who were most anxious to have a dam built. They said this dam had the approval of the Congressional committee from six states. I said, "Fine; what will be the cost per man employed?" There wasn't one of them who could answer that question. They were for the dam and it is a grand project.
But actually the first year's work on the dam would cost, if done in the regular engineering way, about $3000 to $3500 per man employed.

Obviously, if we go ahead with that particular dam, a brand new project, it means we have to offset and reduce other projects to somewhere around $500 or $600. Therefore, it probably is not a practical thing for us to do if we keep our arithmetic in mind. I think we can get across to the country the very simple proposition that we have a mandate from Congress to put three and one-half million people in this country to work for four billion dollars. I said to this delegation, "I am all for this dam; I think it is a very important project on a very important river in the United States. It is going to prevent floods and se-forth, but, in order to do it, I would have to increase the allotment to your particular State by ten or fifteen million dollars. Are you willing to ask me to take ten or fifteen million dollars away from the other forty-seven states of the Union and give it to your State?" They said, "No, we can't ask that."

That is a very simple answer to people who would ask you in your several states to exceed the allotment. We have only so much money and if anybody gets an excess allotment it means that the other fellow of necessity will have to pay the bill. That is why I stress the need of making clear to the people in your own states the common objective—the congressional intent, your intent and mine to put these unemployed to work during the coming year for a given sum of money. This sum is not elastic but definite; a fixed appropriation of the Congress.

We naturally want to decentralize and give you people authority, just as much as we possibly can. The responsibility really is yours in the first instance; it is only ours in the very ultimate instance.

Harry Hopkins and I are considering offering a model—a model to the State Administrator who causes us the fewest headaches.

We are ready to answer questions and to help you out with any problem you have on your hands. Except, probably for a few days' holiday occasionally, between now and the first of July, 1936, you will find Harry and me on the job practically all the time. So, if any problems arise, do, please, if we can help you, let us know about them.

We will give you 100 per cent co-operation and on your shoulders rests not only a great responsibility, but also, I think, a very splendid opportunity to do a fine service for this country.

We all hope there is going to be a very definite and distinct pickup all over the United States. We are working slowly but surely toward the elimination of the major unemployment problem we have had during these past few years. Of course, we always will have a certain number of unemployed with us, but nothing like the present scale, we hope. And, this year, I believe, is going to be the beginning of the picking up of the greater part of this unemployment slack from which we have been suffering.

It is very fine to see you, God bless you all. I hope you go to it, with your coats off, and that the dirt will begin to fly very soon.

Radio Priest Visiting St. Louis

THE REV. CHARLES E. COUGHLIN
In a characteristic pose.

FATHER COUGHLIN
IN CITY FOR SPEECH

Detroit Priest to Make Address Tomorrow Night at the Arena.

The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, organizer of the National Union for Social Justice, is in St. Louis today in advance of a speech he will make at a mass meeting at the Arena tomorrow night. After his arrival yesterday afternoon, he invited reporters to visit him at the Park-Plaza Hotel, where he is staying.

Although he talked freely on virtually all national problems and restated many of his now well-known views on them, the burden of his hour and a half conversation was directed at a criticism of the importance of the office of President of the United States and of the centralization of power in the Chief Executive.

Declaring that "we have over-emphasized the President ever since the war," and pointing to the increased power and prestige of President Roosevelt, Father Coughlin, who has had measurable success in swaying Congress in such instances as the fight on World Court adherence and for the soldiers' bonus, said that "Congress is the real government of the country and the President should only be its business manager."

His remarks were closely tied up with what he had to say on the part that he and his vast organization—for which he now claims 9,000,000 members—intend to play in the 1936 elections. He scoffed at the idea that his choice of a presidential candidate would be important and made it clear that his eye was on the 435 Representatives and 32 Senators who will be elected.

His Union, he said, would support those men for Congress who endorse the "16 points of social justice" which he has outlined. He made it clear that he thought there would be many candidates who would endorse the points and that his followers would cast an appreciable vote for them. He laughed, however, at the suggestion that he held a "balance of power."

Asked if candidates would be inclined to support his program as a whole, he replied, "There are always enough men who want to go to Washington." As to the question of whether such endorsement would be sincere, he replied that once having endorsed the program he thought the power of his organization would hold all inductees to it.

Faith in America.
He spoke repeatedly of his "faith in American democracy and the American people" and of his belief in the power of education and the ballot. When these statements were greeted by quizzical looks, he would smile and say, "Well, you see, I've got faith in this country," or add with cheerful finality, that "things will come out all right."

Like most men with a large following, he ridiculed the suggestion that this following was "highly personalized" or was attracted by "individual magnetism." "They're not following me," he said, "but my ideas, which they know are important. The idea that they're attracted by any magnetic voice is all balderdash."

On national legislation, however,

Persons who are especially interested in handling property are saying they are, but to the person who is planning to buy a home now this question need not be the most important. HANDWRITING EXPERTS TESTIFY ABOUT WILL OF PHYSICIAN

Doubt Signature on Document Leaving Estate to Warsaw Hospital Is Not Genuine.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Two handwriting experts testified yesterday that the signature on the will of Dr. Joseph Lapinska, wealthy Polish physician, was not her own. The will left an estate valued at $250,000 to a trust for 10 years, thereafter to be given a hospital in Warsaw, Poland.

The experts were witnesses at a hearing before Probate Judge John P. O'Connell, sitting as an examining magistrate to decide whether there is evidence on which to hold three men for will forgery—Max A. Diemal, attorney, bank officer, and member of the State Parole Board; Dr. Hapner Home, dentist; and Dr. L. O'Connell, estate broker, named as executor in the document filed by Dr. Lapinska's will.

Called to break the will is Mrs. M. M. Miller of Warsaw, who says she is the illegitimate daughter of the doctor, who died in February, 1924, in Orlando, Fla.

Harold J. Walter, handwriting expert who was a witness in the Edgar Richard Hauptmann trial for the Lindbergh kidnaping, testified Dr. Lapinska's writing showed a foreign influence, while the name appearing on the will showed a "typical American origin."

At earlier hearings, Marion Kuck, Dr. Lapinska's nurse, testified she wrote the name on the will five days after the doctor died, at O'Connell's request.

A verdict of justifiable homicide, after Deputy Constable Joseph Fox, Meramec Township, was held in performance of his duty Sunday night when he shot and fatally wounded Herbert Votaw, 20-year-old laborer of Allenton, when Votaw broke away as he attempted to serve a warrant charging check fraud, was returned by a Coroner's jury in St. Louis County yesterday.

Fox testified that he fired one shot to halt him as he broke away, and then directed the shot at Votaw, who died about an hour later at St. Louis County Hospital, with two bullet wounds in the chest.

ALIENATION SUIT DISMISSED

Plaintiff Must Pay Costs in Suit Against Detroit Capitalist.

DETROIT, June 18.—Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan today dismissed the $100,000 alienation suit filed by Henry B. Joy Sr., 71-year-old Detroit capitalist, by Burr E. Sprague, former collection agent and employee. All costs were charged to the plaintiff.

The suit may be one of the last of its kind in Michigan, the Governor recently signed a bill outlawing alienation suits two weeks ago. Sprague charged that his wife's affections were alienated when she was employed in Joy's home as a domestic. Sprague's attorneys demanded permission to discontinue the suit, payment of the costs after the judge argued that "otherwise the courts will make it a practice to bring a suit off."

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT GRANTED TO TOM MOONEY

California Supreme Court Directs Warden to Show Why Prisoners Should Not Be Released.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The California State Supreme Court granted a writ of habeas corpus to Tom Mooney yesterday. He had filed a petition charging his conviction of the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day bombing was obtained through perjured testimony. George T. Davis, his counsel, said the burden of proof was shifted by the Supreme Court's action from Mooney to State Attorney-General Webb, who is expected to resist this latest move in the Mooney long fight for freedom. The writ, made returnable June 27, directed Warden James J. Holohan of San Quentin prison, where Mooney is serving a life term, to show why the convict should not be released. Webb, as legal representative of Warden Holohan, argued in a previous habeas corpus proceeding before the United States Supreme Court that Mooney's perjury allegation was without legal standing and that relief could come only through executive clemency.

The action by the State Supreme Court, which in 1918 sustained the conviction and held that it could not go outside the trial record and consider the subsequently developed perjury allegation, was declared by Davis to have thrown the case "wide open."

Chief Justice William H. Waste said the 1918 decision was on an appeal from the conviction. He asserted that the habeas corpus action was based on Mooney's contestation that he was held in violation of the "due process" clause of the United States Constitution. In taking the petition before the State's highest tribunal as the last step in an effort to obtain relief from California courts, Mooney followed a suggestion of the United States Supreme Court. The suggestion was made when the United States Supreme Court refused early this year to consider a habeas corpus petition but held that the State should provide a remedy if Mooney could prove his perjury charge. If he fails to obtain release in the State court, it is understood he will seek release from the United States Supreme Court.

BODY OF UNIDENTIFIED MURDER VICTIM, FOUND MAY 29, BURIED

Madison County Coroner Says All Attempts to Learn Who Man Was Have Failed.

The body of an unidentified man believed to have been murdered, found near Mitchell, Ill., May 29, has been buried in the New Methodist Cemetery, Granite City. Deputy Coroner Pieper of Madison County said the burial took place Saturday, after all efforts at identification had failed.

There were bullet wounds in the right temple and under the heart when the nude body, gagged and trussed with rope, was found at the roadside, where it had apparently been dragged behind an automobile.

ILLINOIS RELIEF CHIEF IN $888,827 TAX ROW

Robert J. Dunham "to Pay Gladly" When Assessment Is Fixed, He Says.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Declaring he would "gladly pay" whatever he owed the Federal Government as income tax, Robert J. Dunham, Illinois Works Progress Administrator, yesterday said he had filed two appeals to the Tax Appeals Board.

One appealed from a deficiency assessment of $449,717 for 1930 and the other for $439,110 for 1931. They charged that the Internal Revenue Bureau erroneously assessed taxable profit deals of the Natoma Corporation, the Wausau Corporation and the Universal Oil Products Co. The case has been assigned to the Circuit Court of Chicago, although no date has been set for hearing. Negotiations have been instituted, it was said, to stipulate settlement without trial.

In the city to attend a meeting called by Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, Dunham said he had been having an "argument with the Internal Revenue Bureau for some time over the extent to which profits of the Universal Oil Products Co. were taxable. It was organized in 1914 and sold in 1930 'at a large profit,' he said.

"The largest amount that can properly be due the Government," he said, "is not more than $400,000. No matter what the amount of the tax the commission or the courts may decide, in any event no matter what the final figure is determined at, I will gladly pay it."

STILL OPERATORS SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS, FINED $1600

Third Shrewsbury Defendant Granted New Trial by Federal Judge Davis.

Leo Parenti and Carmelo Antinora were sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and fined $1600 each by Federal Judge Davis today following their conviction by a jury last Saturday on an indictment charging operation of an illicit still. A motion for new trial was sustained in the case of a third defendant, Arcole Ferrari, who was tried with the others.

They were charged with operating a still of 250-gallon daily capacity at the home of Joe Greco, 5026 Deville avenue, Shrewsbury, Greco, who previously pleaded guilty, is serving a sentence of 18 months in the penitentiary. He was fined $500.

ABANDONMENT OF 18 PROJECTS FOR HOMESTEADS CONSIDERED

Officials Said to Find It Difficult to Get Industries to Locate in Towns.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Government is thinking of abandoning 18 subsistence homestead projects inherited by the Resettlement Administration from the Homestead Corporation.

C. B. Baldwin, chief assistant to Rexford G. Tugwell, head of the Resettlement unit, in an interview said:

"We are checking and re-checking all the subsistence homestead projects. Some that are going on cerns we will probably continue, others not yet fully under way may be dropped."

There are 64 such projects, 18 of which are not yet functioning.

The idea of the subsistence homesteads was to link the soil to industry. The plans called for communities populated by persons who would be employed in industry but would have plots of ground to till. It has been reported that officials found it difficult to induce industries to locate in the communities.

Standard Oil's Live Power Album

THIS CHASE LASTED A DAY-AND-A-HALF... CAN YOU GUESS THE OUTCOME?

Not fiction, this story of one small Red Fox which gamely pitted eleven pounds of muscular Live Power, a stout heart, and a keen brain against mounted men and baying hounds.

Through the day the Fox held his lead. At dusk the men called in all but three dogs. All night long the Fox eluded his pursuers. At dawn the men again took up the chase, found two of the dogs exhausted, the pads of their paws worn away. One dog, only, held on.

At midday the Fox finally broke cover. His tongue, swollen and black, hung from his mouth. He tried to clamber over a fallen tree, but fell back, exhausted. At that instant the dog broke through the bushes, barked faintly in triumph, and tottered toward the motionless Fox. He stumbled and fell, regained his feet, and gave the Fox a feeble shake. Then dog and Fox quietly died. They were buried together, there where they had fallen.

In the amazing store of energy and endurance that animals so often display, you have the counterpart of that extra store of LIVE POWER now at your command in Standard Red Crown Superfuel.

FINAL AGREEMENT
BY GERMANY AND BRITAIN ON NAVIES

Nazis Allowed to Build Up to 100 Pct. of English Submarine Tonnage if Plans Are Disclosed.

RATING OF FLEETS
TO BE 100 TO 35

London "Not Condoning Breach of Treaty, Is Simply Making the Best of a Situation."

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 18.—A final agreement between Germany and Great Britain on all important points of a treaty to maintain the German navy at 35 per cent of the British strength was announced officially today.

The announcement followed the 14th meeting of the delegations at several days. It was attended by Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, and Sir Bolton Eyres-Montague, First Lord of the Admiralty.
It was stated that "further meetings on technical questions will be held during the next few days, and no conference is likely to conclude Friday." The announcement of the agreement confirmed information that Great Britain and Germany would be bound regardless of the attitude of other Powers.

White Paper Issued.
A white paper giving the exchange ratios between Sir Samuel and Joachim von Ribbentrop, head of the German delegation, disclosed the terms of the agreement.

The main points are:
1. The tonnage of the German fleet at 35 per cent of the British fleet shall be a permanent relationship.

2. Great Britain alone shall decide whether the action of a third Power requires the reconsideration of the agreement. The German Government reserves the right to invite His Majesty's Government to examine a new situation, the document stating that the general equilibrium of naval armaments should be suitably adjusted.

3. Germany will be allowed to build up to 100 per cent of the British submarine tonnage—now about 12,000 tons—if it serves notice and holds a friendly discussion of plans with Great Britain; otherwise, Germany's submarine tonnage must be fixed at 35 per cent of the British ratio of total naval tonnage.

4. A allowance is made Germany to have more or less than 35 per cent tonnage in other categories, provided full tonnage is maintained and that ratio on the principle that the ratio should be equal for each category, and should be affected by the maximum individual tonnage permitted in that category.

Germany will be allowed to have cruisers and destroyers in a single category, so long as other important naval Powers enjoy the same privilege, although Germany declines its preference for listing them in two classes.

The agreement is binding on Germany and Germany immediately declared the views of other Powers.

German-French Commission.
The treaty will give Germany a fleet of 400,000 tons at the present time, compared with the British total strength of 650,000.
It was stated authoritatively that the exchange of notes there was no mention of the Versailles Treaty but an official spokesman explained: "This does not mean that Britain is condoning a breach of the treaty; we are simply making the best of a situation."

Both Great Britain and Germany expressed the hope that their pact will facilitate a general agreement on the subject of naval limitation between all naval Powers of the world.

An Italian note which was received was said to be "short and unsubstantial" and similar to those received from the United States and Japan, which raised no objections to the treaty.

It was stated that "constant conferences have been carried on with the French Government, which is satisfied that the French Government has neither approved nor disapproved the agreement. There have been several interviews with French representatives both in London and Paris."

Germany's acceptance of Great Britain's note under their terms was understood to be aimed at securing other nations to accept the new naval pact as the world's only basis for peace.

Germany officially announced today that Capt. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, had announced on Page 1, Column 1.

Text of British White Paper On Naval Accord With Germany

LONDON, June 18.
The text of the British White Paper issued today disclosing the terms of the Anglo-German naval agreement follows:

Text of Sir Samuel Hoare's note to Joachim von Ribbentrop:
"During the last few days representatives of the German Government and His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom have been engaged in conversations, the primary purpose of which has been to prepare the way for the holding of a general conference on the subject of limitations of naval armaments they regard as a pleasure in notifying Your Excellency of the formal acceptance by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom of the proposal of the German Government, discussed at those conversations, that the future strength of the German navy in relation to the aggregate naval strength of the members of the British Commonwealth of Nations should be in the proportion of 35 to 100.

"His Majesty's Government regard this proposal as a contribution of the greatest importance to the cause of future naval limitations. They further believe that the agreement which they have now reached with the German Government, and which they regard as a permanent and definite agreement as from today between the two governments, will facilitate the conclusion of a general agreement on the subject of naval limitations between all the naval powers of the world.

"His Majesty's Government also agree with the explanations which were furnished by the German representatives in the course of the recent discussions in London as to the method of application of the principle.

Summary of Explanations.

"These explanations may be summarized as follows:

"1. The ratio of 35 to 100 is to be a permanent relationship.
That is, the total tonnage of the German fleet shall never exceed the percentage 35 of the aggregate tonnage of the naval forces as defined by treaty, of members of the British Commonwealth of Nations, or, if there should in future be no treaty limitations of this tonnage, the percentage of 35 of the aggregate of actual tonnages of members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"2. If any future general treaty of naval limitation should not adopt a method of limitation by agreed ratios between fleets of the great Powers, the German Government will not insist on the incorporation of the ratio mentioned in the preceding paragraph in such a future general treaty, provided the method therein adopted for the future limitation of naval armaments is such as to give Germany full guarantees that this ratio can be maintained.

"3. Germany will adhere to the ratio of 35 to 100 in all circumstances, that is, the ratio will not be affected by the construction of other Powers. If the general equilibrium of naval armaments, as normally maintained in the past, should be violently upset by any abnormal and exceptional construction by other Powers, the German Government reserve the right to invite His Majesty's Government to examine the new situation thus created.

"4. The German Government favors, in the matter of limitation of naval armaments, that system which divides naval vessels into categories, fixing a maximum tonnage and/or armament for vessels of each category and allocates tonnage to be allowed each Power by categories of vessels. Consequently in principle and subject to (sixth point) below, the German Government is prepared to apply the 35 per cent ratio to tonnage of each category of vessel to be maintained and make any variation of this ratio in a particular category or categories dependent on arrangements to this end that may be arrived at in a future general treaty on naval limitation, such arrangements being based on the principle that any increase in one category would be compensated for by a corresponding reduction in others.

"If no general treaty on naval limitation should be concluded or if a future general treaty should not contain a provision creating limitation by categories the manner and degree in which the German Government will have the right to vary the 35 per cent ratio in one or more categories will be a matter for settlement by agreement between the German Government and His Majesty's Government in the light of the naval situation then existing.

"5. If and for so long as other important naval Powers retain a single category for cruisers and destroyers, Germany shall enjoy the right to have a single category for cruisers and destroyers, although she would prefer to see these classes in two categories.

"6. In the matter of submarines, however, Germany, while not exceeding the ratio 35 to 100 in respect to total tonnage shall have the right to possess submarine tonnage equal to the total submarine tonnage possessed by members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.
The German Government, however, undertakes that, except in the circumstances indicated in the immediately following sen-ence, Germany's submarine tonnage shall not exceed 45 per cent of the total of that possessed by the members of the British Commonwealth of Nations. The German Government reserves the right, in the event of a situation arising which in their view makes it necessary for Germany to avail herself of her right to a percentage of submarine tonnage exceeding the 45 per cent above mentioned, to give notice to this effect to His Majesty's Government and agree that the matter shall be the subject of friendly discussion before the German Government exercise that right.

"7. Since it is highly improbable that the calculation on the 35 per cent ratio should give for each category vessels whose tonnage figures exactly divisible by the maximum individual tonnage permitted for ships in that category, it may be necessary that adjustments should be made in order that Germany should not be debarred from utilizing her tonnage to the full. It has consequently been agreed that the German Government and His Majesty's Government will settle by common accord what adjustments are necessary for this purpose, and it is understood that this procedure shall not result in any substantial or permanent departure from the ratio of 35 to 100 in respect of total strength.

"With reference to sub-paragraph (third point) set out above I have the honor to inform you that His Majesty's Government have taken note of the reservation and recognized the right therein set out, on the understanding that the 35 to 100 ratio will be maintained in default of agreement to the contrary between the two Governments. I have the honor to request Your Excellency to inform me that the German Government agree that the proposal of the German Government has been correctly set out in the preceding paragraphs of this note. I have the honor to be, (Signed) SAMUEL HOARE, Foreign Secretary.

Text of Joachim von Ribben-trop's note to Sir Samuel Hoare:
"Your Excellency, I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Your Excellency's note of today's date in which you were so good as to communicate to me on behalf of His Majesty's Government the following:

"(Here follows the German translation of paragraphs one to three of the first note.)
"I have the honor to confirm to Your Excellency that the proposal of the German Government is correctly set forth in the foregoing note, and I note with pleasure that His Majesty's Government accept this proposal.

"The German Government for their part are also of the opinion that the agreement at which they have now arrived with His Majesty's Government and which they regard as a permanent and definite agreement with effect from today between the two governments will facilitate the conclusion of a general agreement on this question between all the naval Powers of the world. I have the honor to be, etc.

BARBED WIRE PUT UP AROUND QUAKE RUINS AT QUETTA, INDIA

All Outside Persons Kept Out Till Danger of Epidemic Is Over.

By the Associated Press.
QUETTA, India, June 18.—A double fence of barbed wire, patrolled by military and civil police, has been erected around the ruins of this city where 20,000 persons were killed in earthquake recently.
All persons from the outside world are forbidden entrance until the danger of an epidemic is over.
Many bodies still are buried in the debris.

Outside the barbed wires, people moved among the rickety shelters of refuge camps where music and motion pictures were offered to help restore the confidence of the natives.
Salvage operations, which were began June 4 by soldiers wearing gas masks, were suspended owing to the danger of infection from bodies heaped in the sun.
Beyond Quetta more than 100 villages are in ruins in the area 130 miles long and 20 miles broad devastated by the shocks which started June 1. It is thought that the total deaths in the city and countryside will exceed 40,000.

U. S. TREASURY
PUT UP MILLIONS TO RESCUE FRANC

Morgenthau Does Not Tell Nature of Transaction, Calls It 'Common Decency' Among Nations.

By the Associated Press.
United States Treasury announced yesterday that it gave assistance to the beleaguered franc less than a month ago.

The nature of the transaction was carefully guarded—except for the fact that a "great many millions" were involved.

Jean Tannery, governor of the Bank of France, announced publicly that Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's "broad understanding of the situation" and his supplying of American dollars had averted a monetary crisis in that country late last month.

Morgenthau, questioned at his press conference, termed his action simply one of "common decency between nations" and said he would rest his case on "what the president of the Bank of France has so graciously said about me."

On 24-Hour Basis.

He reiterated, however, that the Treasury was adhering to its old policy of operating on a "24-hour basis as far as monetary policy is concerned."

"We try to meet the situation as best we can, each day," he said.
Morgenthau disclosed that the Treasury had stepped into the French breach after the bankruptcy of the Trust Co. of Paris had exhausted its aid in keeping the exchange rate in France from getting out of hand.

The operation was reported in some circles to have consisted simply of America supplying dollars to France with which to buy francs.
Morgenthau disclosed that immediately after the operation he had advised Chairman Pittman (Dem.) Nevada, of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, as well as the minority leader, Senator Mc-Nary (Rep.), Oregon, both of whom, he said, approved the action.

"Bold and Statesmanlike." Pittman later hailed the move as "a bold and statesmanlike action," which "if not performed might have delayed stabilization and disturbed economic conditions throughout the world." "We are striving to arrive at international stabilization," he said.

The Senator added that the amount involved was "large when regarded from an individual point of view but not when looked at from a governmental point of view and from the basis of preventing a major financial debacle."

While the transaction involved a "great many millions," he said, it was perfectly safe. Morgenthau, too, in reply to a question said that the Treasury lost no money by the operation and that he believed it had been beneficial to France.

CREWS SHORT OF SUPPLIES

Two Ships That Deserted Canton Government Await Developments Outside Hongkong.

By the Associated Press.
HONGKONG, June 18.—A sailor from one of the two cruisers, Hal-chi and Haischen, which deserted the Canton Government under the fire of local forces, died today as the vessels stood outside Hongkong awaiting arrangements for new service.

Chan Shai-Tong, leader of the Canton Government, is understood to have anticipated the flight and to have kept the crews of the two cruisers short of supplies before they slipped away to sea yesterday.
Admiral Kiang Shi-Yue, who originally took the cruisers to the Canton Government from Nanking and whom Chan Shai-Tong displaced recently, fled from Canton Saturday after many of his associates were arrested.

The mutineers arrested two new Cantonese commanders whom Chan Shai-Tong had appointed to the cruisers, but the commanders were reported to have been released.

NANKING OUSTS
CHAHAR GOVERNOR
AT JAPAN'S ORDER

Gen. Sung Chih-yuan Removed From Office Af-

Council in Manchoukuo.

By the Associated Press.

NANKING, China, June 18.—The Nanking Government relieved Gen.
Sung Chih-yuan of his governor-ship of Chahar province today in a step to ease Chinese-Japanese tension. Civil Commissioner Chin Tehchuan was appointed acting governor.

This action, while not mentioned in connection with continuing negotiations for a settlement of North China controversies, was considered related closely to the discussions.

The Government also named Gen. Shang Chen, garrison commander at Tientsin, as acting Mayor of the city.
It was reported yesterday by the Rengo (Japanese) News Agency correspondent at Hsinking, Man-choukuo, that the High Military Council at Hsinking had decided that Gen. Sung must quit office.

The Military Council, it was reported, decided that if the Chinese National Government did not remove Gen. Sung the Japanese army would have to do so.

6 RUSSIAN WOMEN DROP 4½ MILES WITH PARACHUTES

Jump From Passenger Plane Without Oxygen Apparatus Near Moscow.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, June 18.—Six young women, between the ages of 20 and 23, leaped with parachutes yesterday from an altitude of four and one-half miles without oxygen apparatus.

Each received her parachute and a prize of 1500 rubles. The prize was a sign of the Government's recognition of their feat.
Morning newspapers said the girls' courage proved how Bolshevik society has freed women from the unjust qualification of the "weaker sex."

The women jumped one after another from a big passenger plane and landed 30 miles from Moscow.
One of the girls was Olga Yakoffleff, 23, a member of the Moscow City Soviet and an engineer in a factory. She jumped first, was caught by a strong wind current at an altitude of three miles, was carried laterally for five minutes, and barely missed the chimney of a brick plant when she landed. It was her forty-fourth jump.

The jump was prepared by the Experimental Institute of the People's Commissariat of Heavy Industry which is developing new types of parachutes.

No evacuation order has been begun.

The steamer Gange, arriving in Naples today from Massaua, brought 623 passengers, most of them members of families of Gov-

CARDENAS PICKS
NEW CABINET, CALLES RETIRES

Mexican Government More Conservative Than Expected, Since President Is Known as Leftist.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO, D. F., June 18.—A new administration took office under President Lazaro Cardenas today as former President Plutarco Elias Calles left the political scene he has dominated for eight years.

More conservative than had been expected, the new Cabinet was sworn in while Calles, long called "unofficial president" of the country, departed by plane for his Sinaloa ranch, leaving young President Cardenas victorious in their dispute over economic and political policies.

The incoming government, with the exception of Fernando Gonzalez Roa, former Ambassador to Washington, and Gen. Francisco J.
Mujica, the only holdovers, is composed of men who never have held important office.

The only man whose name had been mentioned in speculation before the announcement of the Cabinet was Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, agrarian leader of San Luis Potosi, who in the post of Secretary of Agriculture is expected to dominate the new government.

Cardenas Addresses Rotarians.
With the political crisis definitely settled, more than 5000 delegates met for the second day's session of the twenty-sixth convention of Rotary International. The Rotarians got a first-hand explanation of conditions in Mexico from President Cardenas in an address yesterday.
He stressed the constitutionality of his government.

Mexico is determined within its laws, he said, to remove economic inequalities and injustices, and to aid the large Indian and Mestizo population.

The delegates, assembled in the main auditorium of the Palace of Fine Arts, applauded the President when he told them they were welcome "because Mexico has nothing to hide or be ashamed of."

Analysis of Cabinet.
Political observers generally were puzzled by the makeup of President Cardenas' new cabinet. All of its members were said to be personal friends of either Cardenas or Emilio Portes Gil, head of the National Revolutionary Party.

The dispute between Calles and Cardenas had been said popularly to be one between "right," repre-

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH The DAILY WASHINGTON
MERRY GO ROUND
By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, June 18.

There is a card index file in the NRA which tells a significant story. It is the record of firms which have lived up to NRA codes and those which have not. The Supreme Court knocked a prop out from under the Blue Eagle.

The story should not be a surprise, because it explains why there was so much opposition from individuals and champions of individual rights in the Senate.

For the story is that big firms are living up to the old NRA codes, while little business is not.

The file shows resolution after resolution by trade associations, labor unions, and NRA codes.

Some of the bigger firms and associations pledging NRA adherence are: The Iron and Steel Institute, Standard Oil Co. of New York, Consolidated Oil, American Petroleum Institute, General Foods, Kaiser, International Business Machines, American Cyanamid, American Farm Equipment Co., West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co., Chevrolet Motors, American Asphalt and Roofing, Bunker Co. and the Appalachian Oil Co.

Pledges.

SEARS-ROEBUCK reported that it planned no reductions in wages or increase in hours.

The Edison Electric Institute, representing 23 per cent of the industry, urged electric companies to maintain standards of wages and hours.

The Association of Cotton Textile Manufacturers of New York, representing 25 per cent of member houses, seemed to continue a 40-hour week and present rates of pay.

Undergarment manufacturers agreed to retain NRA minimum wage rates and a 40-hour week.

Members of the Wool Manufacturers' National Association passed a resolution calling upon the industry to maintain the standards of NRA.

The Textile Institute declared that it was very unimportant to increase the 150 mills in the cotton industry have been adhering to NRA standards.

NRA records, however, despite their incompleteness, show the greater divisions from NRA standards in the textile field.

Code Cutting.

HERE is how the file runs: Atlanta Mills of Macon, Ga., required return to schedule of 40 hours a week, abandoning the 48-hour week of 40 hours.

Tiffany Mills (woven) of Webster, Mass., proposed an increase of hours from 40 to 48.

Emeryville S. M. Graver & Co., a clothing store, plan to structure hours on levels of $13 and $14, with a 40-hour week and a 40-hour week.

Breaks Ship Co., Paterson, N. J., increased hours of workers and increased hours of workers and increased hours of workers.

day. Behind all this good feeling there is a deadly feud—did the Court opinion in the sick chicken case mean that AAA is going to be demolished by a single blast?

It had better not happen out here. If these people have the props knocked out from under them again!

This place gets my vote for any reason. During the NRA some farm communities were not too enthusiastic about the Blue Eagle. They thought it was for workers and that it was past time that something should be done for farmers.

They were slow to see that whatever was done for the farm would increase the industrial market for farm products, which was all shot to pieces. That was never true of Sioux City, and it is perhaps the most distinctively agricultural community in the country.

It put on the first great NRA show—a parade of 10,000 people. It was faithful to the Blue Eagle to the end. When he finally folded up, it was the first important community to try to continue NRA principles voluntarily.

I spoke here the other night to 50,000 people. At the very peak of the shouting of enthusiasm for NRA when the Blue Eagle was at the apex of his fight, I never had such an audience as that.

PRESIDENT SCHAFFERT
ADDRESSES OPTIMISTS

Urges Them to Establish Junior Clubs to Guide Youth Away From Crime.

The establishment of Junior Optimist Clubs to direct boys and young men away from crime was urged upon 100 delegates to the Optimist International convention yesterday by Henry Schaffert, president, in an address officially opening the meeting, which will continue through Wednesday.

Schaffert said that in one city where the Optimists sponsor 30 junior organizations, with a membership of more than 900 boys, crime is nearly 50 per cent lower than in any other city of its size.

He told the members the obligation for this work was clearly theirs, as they were in part responsible for the failure to provide work and opportunity for the oncoming generation.

The delegates visited the Municipal Opera last night, but the performance was interrupted by rain. Today's activities began with a breakfast at Hotel Statler and continued with a series of business meetings by numerous committees.

The principal address was delivered by Branch Rickey, business manager of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team.

TOM SAWYER'S FENCE TO BE WHITEWASHED IN HANNIBAL

Outdoor Pageant to Depict Episodes From Life and Writings of Mark Twain.

By the Associated Press.

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 18. Tom Sawyer's fence will be white-washed again tomorrow in memory of Mark Twain.

A group of fence-painting boys are included in the cast of nearly 1000 which will present an outdoor pageant depicting episodes from the life and writings of Samuel Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain). The program was postponed today because of rain.

The fence actually will get three whitewashings as the pageant is to be repeated. The episode will be taken from the book, "Tom Sawyer," whose central character not only got out of whitewashing the fence himself but inveigled his little friends into paying him for the "privilege."

The pageant is part of the centennial celebration of Clemens' birth.

There will be a Halley's comet ballet by 65 girls. Clemens was born in the year that famous comet streaked across the sky.

His family moved to Hannibal four years later. His school days here will be recalled.

Seventy-five Negro singers will appear in a Mississippi River levee scene, memorializing the author's career as a boat pilot. His marriage, his Civil War days as a soldier, his roles as a miner and Westerner will be fitted into the seven episodes.

The carriage in which Clemens rode when he paid his last visit to Hannibal in 1902 will be used in the pageant. The musical score will be played by a band of 30 pieces. More than 250 girls will dance.

MISSOURI U. STARTS FREE MUSIC COURSE

Promising High School Students to Receive Private and Class Instruction.

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 18. Organization of the all-State high school orchestra and chorus began at the University of Missouri here today with 40 boys and girls enrolling in each for free instruction under a special faculty furnished by the university for the next six weeks.

These 80 outstanding high school musicians from all over the State of Missouri will be given both private and class instruction, tuition free. The members of these two organizations, in two fraternities, have been selected from among the winners of the State interscholastic music contests, from the members of the all-State orchestra organized for the State Teachers' Association convention in Kansas City last November.

From students especially recommended by school heads or private music teachers. There are still several vacancies to be filled in both the orchestra and the chorus.

Plans were originally made to house all the members of these two organizations in two fraternities, houses which had been leased by the university for the summer for this purpose at a flat rate of $50 per student for the entire session. However, because of the fact that so many of the visiting students have friends or relatives in Columbia with whom they would rather live, this plan has been abandoned and the students may now live anywhere they desire.

RAIN STOPS MUNICIPAL OPERA AFTER FIRST ACT

Nearly 3200 at Forest Park Theater to See Opening Performance of "Madame Sherry."

The opening performance of "Madame Sherry" at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park was abandoned last night shortly after the start of the second act because of rain. The management announced that rain checks would be honored for other performances this week.

Nearly 3200 persons turned out to see the first performance of the modernized musical farce, which has not been presented in St. Louis since 1912. The first drops of rain began to fall during intermission following the first act. After several minutes of the second act, the downpour increased and the opera was abandoned at 10 o'clock.

In the audience last night were about 1500 delegates to the convention of the International Optimists' Clubs, a group of 37 Texas business men and Father Charles E. Coughlin, the "radio priest."

ONE OF KILLERS OF OFFICERS AT COLUMBIA, MO., GETS LIFE

Francis McNeely Sentenced After Testifying Against Man Who Was Given Death.

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 18.—Francis McNeely, 24-year-old, Alton (La.) farmer, was sentenced today to life imprisonment by Judge W. M. Dinwiddie for the murder of Sheriff Roger Wilson of Boone County here on June 14, 1933.

McNeely's sentence, on a guilty plea, had been deferred until after he had been used as a State's witness against George McKeever, 34, convicted North Dakota bank robber, in his trial at Fulton last week on a charge of killing Sgt. Ben Booth of the State Highway patrol in the same fight. McKeever, as the result of an airtight case against him which hinged on McNeely's direct identification of McKeever as Booth's killer, was sentenced to death Saturday night.

BODY OF 'PREHISTORIC MINER' DISCOVERED IN MAMMOTH CAVE

Found in Preserved Condition by Two Guides, Park Service

MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky., June 18.—Announcement of the discovery in Mammoth Cave National Park of what was described as "the desiccated body of a prehistoric miner" is made here by Robert P. Holland, acting representative of the national park service in charge of the park.

Holland said the body was found June 7 in an old section of the cave by two guides, Grover Campbell and Lyman Culliff, but that announcement had been withheld pending a study of it by archeologists. He said scientists considered it an "important find."

KILLS SELF AFTER SECOND HUSBAND OBTAINS DIVORCE

Mrs. Myrtle Best of Nyack, N. Y., Found Dead in First Mate's Home.

NYACK, N. Y., June 18.—The death of Mrs. Myrtle Best from a revolver bullet in the home of her first husband, several days after a divorce settlement had been made by her second husband, a Manhattan insurance broker, was said by District Attorney Dorsey to be suicide.

The body of the 27-year-old divorcee was found, clad in a nightgown, on a divan in the home of John Candelmo at Valley Cottage, near here, yesterday. There was a bullet wound near the heart and a .38-caliber revolver lay near.

Candelmo was reported to have been in Troy, N. Y., on business at the time of the death. His brother, Ernest, made the discovery. Dorsey said an opium layout had been found in the home of John Candelmo, roadhouse proprietor.

The woman's second husband, Alexander Best, told the District Attorney he had obtained a divorce several days ago and had made a cash settlement on his former wife.

SMALLPOX, TYPHOID BREAK OUT IN NEBRASKA FLOOD DISTRICT

Serum to Combat Both Diseases Rushed From Lincoln

BENKELMAN, Neb., June 18.—Outbreaks of smallpox and typhoid were reported today in the southwestern part of Nebraska, swept by flood water of the Republican River. Serum to combat both diseases was rushed to this town of 1100 persons by airplane from Lincoln.

Only two weeks ago floods and tornadoes caused more than 100 deaths and property damage estimated at $13,000,000.

Cloudbursts sent the river and its tributaries out of their banks but the floods lacked the force of the previous disaster. New roads, railroad tracks and bridges were damaged but few persons had returned to lowland homes and warnings were issued, permitting evacuation of the valley before the new flood arrived.

South of Benkelman, Mrs. Harold Mosier was drowned when attempting to rescue her 5-year-old daughter, Betty June, after the child was swept away by water which inundated their Kansas farm home.

Searching parties resumed the hunt for the child but held little hope of finding her alive. Mrs. Mosier's body was recovered near Benkelman.

Nine cases of smallpox were reported in the Benkelman vicinity.

POLITTE ELVINS, POLITICIAN, IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Elvins Charges Indignities and Is Granted Injunction of Bank to Hold Securities.

Suit for divorce against Politte Elvins, Clayton attorney and former Congressman, was filed at Clayton today by Mrs. Florence Kells Elvins, on the ground of general indignities. The petition asked also an injunction against the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co. to prevent Elvins from removing an estimated $100,000 in stocks and bonds from custody of the bank.

Circuit Judge Witthaus granted a temporary order restraining Elvins or the bank from disturbing the assets in question, except cash, until hearing on an order to show cause, which was set for June 25.

The petition stated they were married in 1901 at Arcadia, Mo., and have resided for the last 10 years at Price and Ladue roads, McKnight Village. Last Thursday, it was alleged, Elvins drove away from the residence and "threatened her with violence" if she did not leave the house also.

Elvins owns property in excess of $150,000, including the residence, a citrus plantation in Texas and stocks and bonds, according to the petition. The injunction was sought on the ground the plaintiff was informed Elvins was planning to remove to Texas. The Elvins have a grown son, Kells.

Elvins has been active in Republican politics in Missouri for more than 30 years. He was a member of Congress in 1904-11, chairman of the Republican State convention in 1912 and 1914 and a member of the State House of Representatives in 1929-30.

MISSOURI AND MISSISSIPPI RIVERS FALLING STEADILY

Stage of Fozzer at St. Charles Still 4.8 Feet Above Flood Level.

Steady falls have been continuing by the flooded Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

The Missouri at St. Charles had dropped to 29.8 feet at 7 o'clock this morning, or 4.8 feet above flood level—a fall of .6 of a foot in 24 hours and of 5.3 feet from the crest reached June 7. The gauge at Hermann, Mo., was 23.3 feet, or 2.3 feet above flood line, a fall of .7 of a foot. In the Mississippi the only report in the Missouri stages were from Chester, Ill., and Cape Girardeau, Mo., at each of which points the reading was only about 18 inches above flood levels. At St. Louis the reading was 28.8 feet, or 3.7 feet below flood stage, a fall of 1.1 feet.

City workmen have begun washing off mud deposited by the high water on the downtown levee. The stream line has dropped to the paved slope below the railroad tracks along the steamboat landings and it has become possible to park automobiles on sections of the levee again.

The woman had become unconscious after dining with Mansell Saturday night and died Sunday after she took her to an emergency hospital.

EAST ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS ADOPT SALES TAX SCHEDULE

Decide to Exempt Purchases Under 15 Cents; Statewide Meeting on Policy at Peoria.

East St. Louis merchants, meeting yesterday, voted not to collect a tax on purchases amounting to less than 1. cents when the new 3 per cent sales levy, recently passed by the State Legislature, goes into effect late this summer.

A bracket schedule adopted by the merchants will be reported to a State-wide meeting at Peoria today, where Illinois retailers will attempt to agree on a fixed policy. The new 3 per cent levy will supplant the 2 per cent tax now in effect.

The proposed bracket schedule for passing the tax along to purchasers is as follows: Purchases from 15 cents to 39 cents, 1 cent tax; 40 cents to 74 cents, 2 cents; 75 cents to $1.15, 3 cents.

MAN WHO JUMPED $5000 BOND IN CITY HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS

John Spaulding, Wanted on Vandalia (Ill.) Warrant, Likely to Be Returned to St. Louis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 18.—The arrest of John Spaulding, 38 years old, wanted in Memphis for a $55,000 stock swindle and in other cities on similar charges, was announced here today by detectives and postoffice inspectors. A woman accompanying him, who said she was his wife, is also being held.

Federal authorities said Spaulding, who used the aliases of Robert Boyd Mills, Frank Dodd and J. B. Tatum, was wanted in St. Louis for bond forfeiture and would probably be taken their Friday after a hearing. They said he is also wanted in New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., and San Antonio, Tex. At the time of their arrest, Mrs. Spaulding had $5613 in cash on her person, and Spaulding had $106.

Police records show Spaulding, as Robert Boyd Mills, was arrested here with a woman last Sept. 8 by detectives, who found a number of stocks and securities in his possession. Several bonds, the records show, were traced to Farina, Ill., where Andrew Tarrill had complained to authorities that he had given them to Spaulding in return for securities that proved worthless.

Subsequently a warrant charging forgery was sworn out at Vandalia by Tarrill, but when police sought to arrest Spaulding on the warrant, he could not be found, and finally failed to appear on his bond. The bond, signed by Joe Webber, for $5000, was declared forfeited Oct. 10. Spaulding, according to police records, is wanted on similar charges in Trenton, N. J., and Seymour, Tex., and for using the mails to defraud in Charleston, S. C. Police said they will ask that he be returned here.

FEDERAL WRITS STAY ACTION AGAINST LONG'S OPPONENTS

Two Unrelated Cases Taken, Temporarily, From Jurisdiction of State Tribunals.

NEW ORLEANS, June 18.—Legal maneuvering by two of Senator Huey Long's political opponents to remove litigation in which they are involved from the jurisdiction of the State courts was temporarily successful when Federal writs were issued yesterday staying further State action. Proceedings in each case had been instituted in local tribunals under Long's administration.

While entirely unrelated, the two cases, that of the State against Col. John P. Sullivan, dispenser of the national administration's Louisiana patronage, and that of the State Attorney-General against the New Orleans sewerage and water boards were called simultaneously in different divisions of Orleans Parish District Court.

Sullivan was scheduled to be arraigned before Special District Judge Mark C. Pickrel on charges filed June 6 of "operating a confidence game" in connection with alleged real estate transactions of a firm headed by Sullivan. Sullivan was not present and Judge Pickrel ordered an attachment issued for him. However, his attorneys had obtained a Federal Court writ ordering the "removal of Col. Sullivan's body" to Federal custody. Sullivan was admitted to bail by Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah, who fixed Nov. 18 as the date for hearing on the removal petition.

Attorneys for the old water board served attorneys for the State with notice of a Federal order issued by Judge Borah restraining the State court from further action in the case pending a decision on the Federal tribunal's jurisdiction.

Farm Prosperity.
15 Pretty Heads to Fall.
Two Women Kill Themselves.
The Hammer Lady Emerges.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1935.)
TELEGRAM dated Washington, from Congressman P. L. Gassaway. Try to be as cheerful as he is.

"Just returned from trip through Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Crops are good out there. Prosperity is certain. Couldn't get breakfast at railroad restaurant on account of crowd."

Mr. Gassaway will soon be Governor of Oklahoma. He likes Oklahoma better than any country he ever heard of except Heaven.

Lloyd George says: "Signor Mussolini is bent upon the conquest of Abyssinia. Lust is in his eye and he shakes his speech wild and incoherent. He resents all interference from outside with furious anger. Mussolini's speech may have been 'wild and incoherent,' but there was common sense in it, when he reminded the British that they didn't tempt or listen to criticism while they were building up their Empire. Lloyd George admits that Britain said none too nobly when, after a hard fight, she swallowed the Treaty of Versailles."

Says Lloyd George: "Mussolini seems to say 'I will stick to my word except when it suits me to break it.' That need surprise nobody. Several nations, England included, gave their word of honor to pay billions borrowed from this country. They have no difficulty breaking that word."

If it is right for one nation to break its word about billions, why is it wrong for Mussolini to break his word about Abyssinia, especially as he has never made any promise about Abyssinia, and Italy has still to avenge the unpleasant Italian defeat of 40 years ago at Adowa.

Also, Abyssinia is the only African country that no European Power controls. Lloyd George calls it "the last plum on the African tree" and Mussolini means to pick it.

"It does sound wicked," but old Mother Britannia, has been a good "plum picker" in her day.

In Foshow 15 Chinese girls, "unusually pretty," confessed to being spies, seeking to turn Chinese troops toward Communism. In China capital punishment is still looked upon as a necessary consequence of objectionable anti-Government activity. The 15 beautiful young ladies will probably have their heads cut off and will probably appear at the place of execution kneeling obediently in a row, bodies bent forward, necks stretched out, waiting for the executioner to come along, chopping each neck as he passes.

It is rarely necessary to bind any Chinese sentenced to death. Beheading is mild punishment compared to ancient days when criminals might be sawed in two lengthwise.

Eastern countries, China, Japan and others have been severe and cruel in punishment. Beheading is almost a kindness.

One woman of New York, living in the Bronx, quarreled with her husband. Indignant, she rose from her bed, dressed, went out. She returned, dressed, died.

Last Christmas 17-year-old Walter Plutkiewicz shot his father, not seriously. His mother begged for mercy, the son was released.

Last Wednesday the young man beat his mother brutally and she killed herself with gas.

Women are unwise. The wife who killed herself should have been first to get up, dress, go out and leave her husband wondering.

The mother who killed herself should have called the police to give her young brutal son such a beating that would have made him cautious for the rest of his life.

Rapidly time passes. Mrs. Clara Phillips, called by some reporters "The Hammer Lady," and by others "The Tiger Woman," killed a woman whom she did not like with a hammer, spent 12 years in prison and is out already, wearing "a small black hat, fit snugly over her hair, a wigish bob and a blue-and-white flowered dress."

Her husband, who promised faithfully to be waiting at the prison, was not there. Much can happen to a husband's feelings in less than 12 years, nevertheless, Mrs. Phillips, forgiving, said: "I am not bitter. All I want people to do is to let me alone and give me an even break." The dead lady, Alberta Meadows, is not heard from.

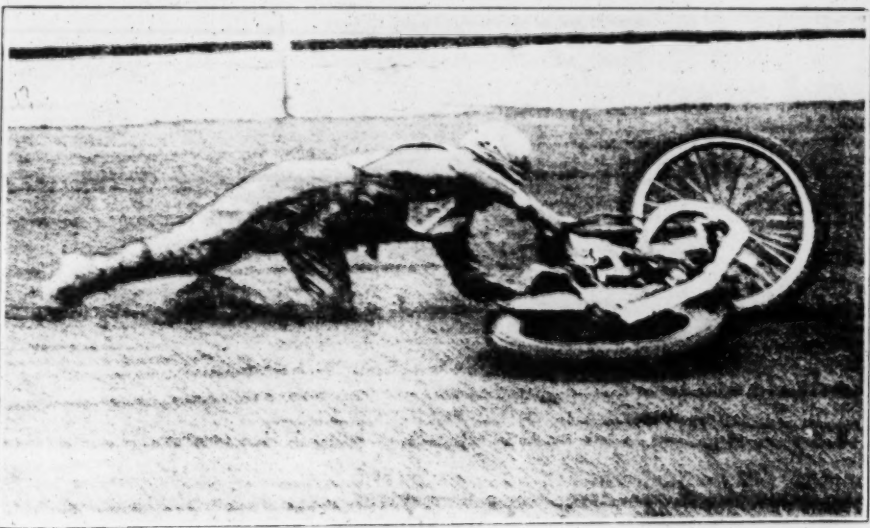

While Mrs. Phillips, the "Tiger Woman" or "hammer slayer," as you prefer, was coming out of prison Miss Eva Coo, convicted of killing her automobile back and forth several times over a murdered

It is not how long you live but what, and how much you do, while you are alive. Miss Shirley Temple has already lived longer than Galapagos turtle 600 years old. Napoleon and Alexander, Shelley and Tell all the children you know, big and little, about unfortunate Mr. and Mrs. George Hoyt who had four sons. The three older sons got inside a refrigerator on their father's truck. A playmate, it is supposed, slammed the door shut, the three boys died, suffocated.

The unhappy father, who lacks money to bury his three children, had planned to sell the refrigerator "because it was dangerous," but waited too long. Teach children never to shut a door on anybody.

Grass green wool knitted in a zig-zag pattern makes a smart two-piece frock finished with dark green leather clips and belt which Madame Jacques Stern, wife of the French deputy, took to America with her on the Normandie while John Jacob Astor, the former Mrs. John Jacob Astor, wore a costume of pink wool helted and buttoned with brown leather.

Blouses knitted with big dots—something new in knitting stitches—are another novelty this season.

INFORMAL JEWELRY for SUMMER

Color Contrast Important in the New Mode

By Sylvia Stiles.

THE diamond tiara has been replaced by a raffia bandeau. Rosebud clips are worn where costly jewels gleamed a few months ago. Wrist are banded with brightly hued circles rather than with gleaming spangles. Red daisy earrings blossom on the same ears that have glistened with stars or pearl drops.

Such radical departures are not a hint that a new economy program is being launched or that we are in for another alphabetical recovery orgy, but that the summer season has begun and the elaborate folder of the winter months has no place in the informal mode. A woman can be as gay as she likes—in fact, the gayer the better—but her costume jewelry must smack of casualness.

Since fashion authorities are advocating white frocks, white suits and white coats for summer, they present costume jewelry and little knickknacks to supply some color contrast. Enamelled metal is their greatest ally, especially for the completion of daytime smartness, because a paint brush knows no limitations in the matter of mixing shades of composition. Enamel also is being worn extensively, but the more exclusive designers are inclined to turn up their noses at the composition pieces this season because replicas of their choicest products have been sold quite successfully for a mere song.

Peasant themes are so much in vogue that the jeweler couldn't resist the temptation to offer us some peasant shades in bracelets, clips and other decorative bits. Garden shades would have been equally as expressive because so many flower motifs are used, and the tones that have been reproduced are those that are found in the flowers of the cheeriest gardens. The nasturtium shades are represented as are the vivid poppy hues. Deep red, which goes by many names from geranium to dubonnet, is a dark favorite.

It may seem strange to discover artificial flowers at the jewelry counters but they are lavishly displayed, and the varieties range from tiny pink roses to red poppies as large as plates. Some of the most beautiful are those that have tiny apples and pears surrounded by braided raffia leaves are featured for shirtwaist frocks or linen suits, while firecracker sprays of linen remind us that there are some queer ways of being patriotic.

Necklaces aren't shown in such great numbers that a woman must swathe her neck in order to be stylish, but there are tempting beaded adornments that add colorful charm to a costume. Two and three strand necklaces are preferred in the length that is slightly more than a choker. Most of these pieces have a flower ornament which should be worn at the side rather than the back.

A few of the new examples of summer jewelry have been sketched from the collections on display in the St. Louis shops. In the circle at extreme left are shown a flower pin and bracelet. These are of enameled metal in two-tone tones. Leaves and stems are of gold. Clips and earrings also may be purchased to carry out this same idea.

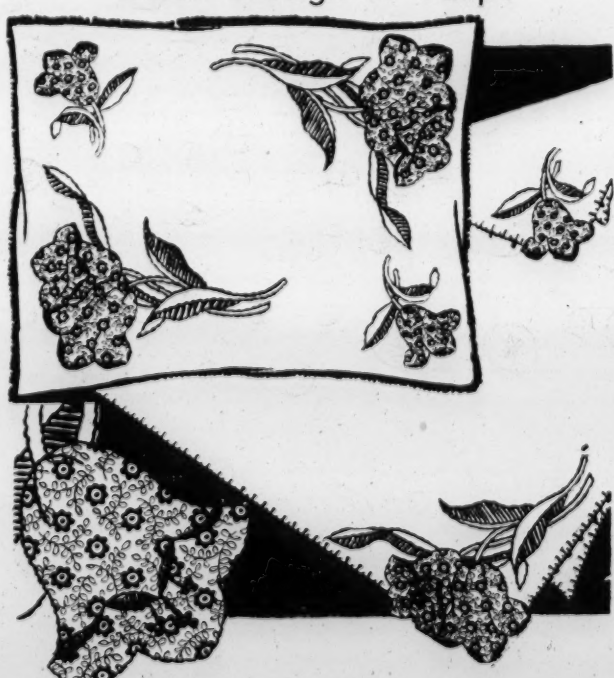

The hand sketched at the center of the illustration is showing off Maggy Rouff's summer conceits—a ring and a bracelet that represent the last word in "dress-up" jewelry. Prystal forms the background with cabochon arrangement of large stones such as sapphires, onyx, moonstones, emeralds or rubies surrounded by tiny rhinestones. The same theme appears without the brilliant sets for wear with sports clothes. One of the clips that completes these ensembles is sketched, also.

The firecracker spray mentioned above appears below and to the right of the hand while the popular daisy motif for earring and bracelet is illustrated in the panel. The crackers are of red linen tipped with white while the leaves are of red, white and blue patent leather. Incidentally this isn't a modest little nosegay but a pompous decoration that measures at least six inches from tip to tip. The daisy pieces are available in the new shades of lilac, pink and red as well as white.

LIMITED space made it impossible to include those clever enamel buckle rings that follow the lead of the silver mesh ones which appeared some months ago.

Problems of Social Usage For Weddings

Correct Plans for Morning Reception—Bride Should Have Veil.

By Emily Post

DEAR MRS. POST: My wedding is to take place at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be followed by a very simple reception for the families and nearest relatives and friends. In this case should the invitations be for breakfast or a reception, and it proper to serve wedding cake and perhaps a fruit cup in the morning?

ANSWER: At 10 o'clock in the morning the word reception is not quite right, and neither can it be breakfast unless the food is that of an early morning meal. I think you would have to serve breakfast coffee and rolls and perhaps a fruit cup and a fruit cake to take home. In the afternoon much less would be sufficient.

DEAR MRS. POST: I will have a very small church wedding and wonder if a wedding veil will be too formal. My dress will be a simple afternoon one of white chiffon with enough fullness in the train. Providing it is suitable for me to wear a veil, what kind would you suggest?

ANSWER: As I so often explain, I am a bride without a veil. I am exactly like a frame with its picture left out. Her veil should, of course, be in keeping with the simplicity or elaborateness of the wedding details. Suitability after all the first essential of good taste. A veil of tulle, either finger-tip length or one ending in the hem of your dress, would be equally suitable.

DEAR MRS. POST: I am to be married very quietly and none of our immediate families can be present. My fiancée's family knows all our plans and that we would like them with us if it were possible. Under the circumstances ought I to send them an announcement?

ANSWER: Yes, because they will certainly be most happy in seeing them than almost anyone else.

DEAR MRS. POST: I have worked my present employer only six months, and am leaving soon to be married. Would it be proper to send an invitation to the wedding and reception?

ANSWER: An invitation to the church ought to be sufficient, and it would be more polite to send it to the house and include his wife if he has one. However, if you are having a large reception, which will include many outsiders, send them an invitation for afterwards also—that is, if you would like to.

Laboratories have devoted years of research to discover the facts about bran. These tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural laxative food for normal people.

As a result, ALL-BRAN has been accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods, and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Millions of Americans use ALL-BRAN to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. For ALL-BRAN supplies generous, mild "bulk," which continues to be effective when used for months. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron, an element of the blood.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By Martha Carr

DEAR MRS. CARR: I AM a woman in my early thirties, and have been married five and one-half years. I am the mother of two very young children. After marriage I kept working, earning as much as my husband. I was away from my office a few weeks prior to each one's birth and returned to work within six weeks. In order to avoid my job, at one time I failed and had to be taken home. I employed a nurse for the children. I have practically had no time for the babies in the evening and Sunday without recreation. I also helped my husband finance his night-school course of three years and was six months ago that his promotion came. He suddenly received a much salary as both of us had been receiving.

He had me resign my position immediately, thereby losing my place in the raises I had had. Well, the dream lasted two months. He suddenly burst the news out of a clear sky that he wanted a divorce. He said I had been a good wife, but he was just tired of me and didn't love me. He wanted to be free to travel and do as he pleased. He wants me to take the children and try and get my office work back (which would be a much lower salary) and I would have to be divorced to get it.

My husband refuses to get at all. He gives me not a decent word. He is going everything he can to get me to leave. There are weeks and weeks and I believe, another woman. And not much money left in the family. He is afraid to desert me on account of losing his job. He is just trying to freeze me out. Shall I put up with this for a lifetime for my children's sake?

UNDECIDED WIFE.

I am sure, had you consulted a dependable lawyer and your husband's employer, and they understood the circumstances, you would have the power, not only to make your husband support you and your children, but to compel him to be decent to you or else—you could get his job and force him out of the house. I cannot, of course, give legal advice, but I feel sure that, after you consult a lawyer, you will decide, they would rebuke such dastardly lack of appreciation, contempt, and letting down of a wife as if he ever had any!

Say nothing to him, but do not let him out of the house—you do not want to give him a chance to say he had deserted—until you see a lawyer and his employer. There is no reason for you to turn chicken-hearted either, when he becomes unkind, or give him the least margin. His wife has been turned completely by your early spilling and by prosperity; now let him make his turn and see how he likes the freedom of enforced responsibility.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I would like to tell you how I can fruit without sugar for diabetes. If not, where could I find out? A READER.

I think you might get this information by writing the Home Economics Bureau, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I have appreciated the many kindly references to their column in your column. We want to know that we still clothe the school child, when not cared for by another agency, or where immediate help is necessary, as in the case recently of a fire in Baltimore. You can call on us when you need us. I notice in your column today a widow states that she wishes to give her services at a children's camp. I want to suggest Mrs. Prudence Tillery, in charge of the Frank Wyman Outing Farm at Eureka, might be glad to get such a person.

Regarding the three young girls who have just graduated from High School and want jobs—may I say that there are jobs galore for sensible, intelligent, capable girls if they are willing to do housework. It pays far better than saleswomen's jobs, when one considers the board, carfare and other expenses of the salesgirl. At least of the month maid's money is earned while the girl down town sometimes scarcely has anything left after paying expenses. What St. Louis needs most is a training school for housekeepers and maids, as the course now offered at Hadley cannot meet the demand.

MRS. NORMAN M. W. Pres. C. C. C.

Thank you for your letter and answer.

ART. You will find an office where you can register for the CCC at 7800 Pershing boulevard, Clayton, Mo.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am the State of Kentucky and an old age pensioner.

AMERICAN. Kentucky is not one of the states listed in the World Almanac of 1935 as having an old-age pension.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I AM a person with glasses and a blemished hat or a tam or a hat of any kind? 2. Would you please full face look best with short hair?

I have heard that white specks on the nails have a certain meaning—is that true? What are the white specks caused from?

THANK YOU. Generally the hat with brim is more becoming to those who wear glasses. 2-The cut of the hair can be so adjusted to the type of face that either is becoming; however, a very stout person with round face does not look well with a boyish (very short) bob.

Specks on the nails have a meaning—but not what you think. It is a sign of a poor circulation of the blood. Sometimes they are due to the wrong method of manicuring; that is, a sharp instrument may scratch the nail while loosening the cuticle around the nail. Again, they may be caused by some disturbance of the system.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I AM answer to "Stare Decisis": I may say that I am sometimes puzzled wondering how young men like a girl to act? If the girl is serious, you do not like that; if she is silly or a cut-up, that will not do. What way do you want her to be? Really, I am sure the girl will not care whether you have a car or a lot of money if she finds you interesting and desirable to have among her acquaintances.

I have found young men will take other girls out, when they have money, instead of the ones that prove to be an all-around sport when they were broke, or down and out of a job.

The girls of today do not expect too much. I think the young men of today expect too much of the girl; expecting them to be everything they themselves aren't. I have found the majority of the young men quite sure of themselves, conceited, and boring! They might as well know they aren't the only ones dissatisfied.

JEANNE.

The Urge That Tends Toward Orderly Life

It Is Always in Conflict With the Impulse to be Lazy and Lawless.

By Elsie Robinson

I HAVE a contempt for lazy people. I look with virtuous disapproval upon their shiftless ways, their wretched dawdling when there's work to do. I refuse to dawdle with them. In every way possible I show my disapproval of lazy people.

RUT I ENVY THEM! I loathe cowards. I note with horror their evasions of responsibility, their contemptible flight from danger, their escape from painful consequences. I tell myself how much nobler it is to be brave and resolute—and how glad I am that I am not a coward.

RUT NEVER- THELESS, I EN- VY THEM. I detect liars. I note their duck- ings and dodgings with disgust. I try to tell the truth, though often it complicates life terribly. But I insist that I would rather suffer any pain than be a liar.

AND YET I ENVY THEM! Outlaws—they're a bad lot. Bandits, adventurers, all such prowlers on the borders of society—as a respectable citizen I take my stand against them. I talk loudly about methods of curbing their lawless- ness. I croak dire prophecies about the bad end they'll come to.

AND ALL THE TIME I'M SIM- PLY GREEN WITH ENVY OF THE GRAND, EXCITING TIME THEY'RE HAVING. You can get right down the line of the vices and my reaction is the same to every one of them. I'M LINED UP WITH THE SAINTS. BUT GOSH, HOW I ENVY THE SINNERS!

Is this a confession of my indi- vidual depravity? It is not. It is the story of all men. It is your story as well as mine. IT IS THE STORY OF CIVIL- IZATION.

Men have always been involved in a struggle between their respect for virtue and their longing for vice. That is what has made them men. Otherwise they would have stayed apes.

Every normal creature wants to be lazy, cowardly, dishonest, law- less, because that was its natural condition as a brute.

But in every normal human creature there is also a small fierce urge that makes it reach toward good, toward honesty, toward order, industry, orderliness, honesty, brave life.

Always the two urges are in con- flict and out of that struggle comes civilization.

Do not be horrified or discour- aged if you see that struggle going on in yourself or in your children. Do not fear that you, or they are unusual, abnormal. Do not fear that you or they have a secret shameful Other Self. Of course, you have. Everyone has. That's human life.

Human life is an APE REACH- ING FOR THE STARS. Sometimes the ape will be so strong in you that you will feel its matted, hairy hide and hear the gnashing of its yellow fangs.

But sometimes, for a brief, breathless instant the ape will sud- denly stand upright and there with- in its brutish hands will gleam a star. And for that little space the brute will be a Man!

THOSE 'Thank You' DEBTS

By Angelo Patri

DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS: Do you owe anybody anything to- night? If you do, pay your debt. I am thinking particularly of thank you debts. Has anybody done something for you and gone unthanked? Make it up right away. I will tell you why.

Aunt Millie was shopping last week and saw a nice little hat that she thought would go well with her blue print dress. It cost $3.49. She was going in to try it on when she stopped and said:

"Next week is Carlo's birthday. I want to give him those stamps he needs to fill his American se- ries. Three and a half would buy him a few. Five dol- lars would do better. I'll hold on to that money and get some stamps for him."

The stamps were sent in good time for the birthday and Aunt Millie smiled happily to think how glad Carlo would be to have them. She read, in imagination, the warm note of thanks he would send her and she noted:

"By the way, did you hear from Carlo?" asked Uncle Alf.

"Not yet," said Aunt Millie, trying to hide the disappointment in her voice. "Maybe he hasn't had time yet."

"Time? Nonsense! How much time would it take for him to sit down and send off a note to you three minutes he got those stamps? I tell you, Millie, you just waste your money and your kindness on an un- grateful young pup."

Next time you forget all about his birthday. Let him feel how it seems to be overlooked for a change. And next time buy yourself the hat you want and save me the trouble. I had that one sent home today."

It was a long time before Aunt Millie had put the stamps in his al- bum. After that his mother said it was bedtime. Next day school and lessons and games took most of the time, and Jimmy came in to look at the new stamps. After that Carlo thought about the note only when he was busy doing something else. By and by not even then.

Older folk, like Aunt Millie and grandpa, and Uncle Alf, find great pleasure in children's happiness. It is more fun for them to give things to their young relatives than to get things for themselves. They count on enjoying the children's joy. They look forward to having their old hearts warmed by the love and gratitude and appreciation of their favorites. They are bitterly disap- pointed when those thanks are not forthcoming promptly. A debt that

Contract Won With Normal Sound Playing

By P. Hal Sims

SAMUEL FRANK of St. Paul, sends in the following hand. He asks both for criticism and com- mendation.

So far as the play is concerned, Mr. Frank cannot be criticized. He made his contract by sound, un- spectacular play—the kind of play that nets thousands of declarers games and slams over the year's time. He needed a break here, a finesse, but the hand de- veloped fairly enough for him, and the important thing was that the contract was made.

As far as the play is concerned, Mr. Frank cannot be criticized. He made his contract by sound, un- spectacular play—the kind of play that nets thousands of declarers games and slams over the year's time. He needed a break here, a finesse, but the hand de- veloped fairly enough for him, and the important thing was that the contract was made.

Mr. Frank pointed out, in exten- sion of the actual bidding, that he lived in the following hand. North opened with two spades; South re- sponded with three hearts; North bid five no trumps, and South ac- cepted. Hardly one of these bids fits in with my theory of slam bid- ding, but they get there just the same, despite me.

In the first place, North hasn't got a two-spade bid. Irrespective of his trump losers, he has three heart losers, and a diamond off the hand. One spade is enough to bid on the hand. I might condone two no trumps, but that's the only two bid I'd allow.

Over one spade, South, whose hand is very weak, cannot afford to come in at the two level. He might venture two clubs, but never two hearts. His best response is one no trump.

North excusably feels strong enough to force with three hearts; and South raises to four hearts. North does not hesitate an instant. He bids six hearts.

When South was the declarer, West opened the nine of spades. Mr. Frank won in the dummy, and ruffed a small spade in order to get back to his hand to take the diamond finesse. It lost. East re- turned another spade, South trump- ing, after a few quails, with the queen of trumps. A small diamond was played to the ace, and a trump was ruffed in the king. The last long- ing spade was discarded on the jack of diamonds, and the ten of hearts finesse taken. When it held—surely a cruel fate would not place both the king of diamonds and jack of hearts in the East hand—the re- mainder of the tricks were conced- ed by the opponents.
